Homeowner groups unite, discuss common problems

MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Six Antioch Township homeowner's associations gathered to discuss mutual concerns at the Felter's Homeowner's Association clubhouse. This historic gathering will mark the first time the separate associations have attempted to meet.

It is reported that there are more than 25 homeowner associations in the unincorporated Antioch area. However, according to Antioch Township officials, there is no document that provides the names of either the organizations or elected officials of such groups. As a result of the difficulty in gathering this information, it has been impossible for these organizations to meet to discuss common problems and to exchange organizational ideas.

Carol Jonites, treasurer for the Felter's group was able to obtain the names of at least nine of these associations, and representatives from six of them were able to attend the meeting.

"Everyone was excited about the idea. We were very pleased with the result," said Jonites. "The meeting exceeded our expectations. We have been working on it for a couple of months."

The number one concern of all of the groups seemed to be the lakes. Nearly all of the groups attending have lakefront property and are battling an ever increasing seaweed problem. Each association discussed their approach to the problem and many came away from the meeting with some new ideas on how to address the problem.

Some of the newer associations were able to ask the more established groups about organizational issues such as dues, meetings, elections, and event planning. The meeting generated so much enthusiasm, that many of the attendees remained well past 10 p.m.

The groups Jonites was able to contact included Warners Shore, Lotus (Continued on Page 8)

Deep Lake tragedy results in lawsuit

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

As a result of the fatal accident on Oct. 22 at the corner of Deep Lake Road and North Avenue in Antioch Township, a wrongful death lawsuit has been filed on behalf of John Kennedy of Trevor, Wisc. His wife, Mary Janine Kennedy, and their five-month-old male fetus were killed when a car driven by 16-year-old Brandy Luciano ran a stop sign at that intersection.

According to Sheriff Grinnell, Luciano was traveling northbound on Deep Lake Road when she failed to stop at the stop sign at North Avenue. Luciano's vehicle was stuck by a westbound car driven by Kennedy. Also killed in the crash was Kenneth Grasser, who was a passenger in Luciano's car. Grasser, age 15, was a student at Antioch Community High School.

Both Grasser and Kennedy were airlifted to area hospitals by the Flight for Life helicopters. Two days after the accident, Kennedy lost the little boy fetus she was carrying, and she subsequently died on Nov. 2. The fetus would have been the first child of John and Mary (Continued on Page 8)

Chicken war is sizzling

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

As many have noticed, the Antioch Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurant has closed its doors. However, the reason it closed seemed to be a better kept secret than the Colonel's own recipe.

The most popular rumor has been that the health department forced the closure. The origination of this rumor is not known, but it has been alleged that chicken competitor, Hardee's has been responsible.

"Hardee's has been trying to grab our chicken business," says the owner's father, Ken Monroe. "We have sent people in and proved they were telling customers that rumor."

Monroe denies the rumor categorically. According to him, the restaurant closed for a combination of reasons which include financial difficulties and a nearly fatal truck accident. Owner Mike Monroe was hit by a truck and spent some time in intensive care in a Waukegan hospital. He continued treatment at the Mayo Clinic, and will be facing yet another operation this week.

While insisting that none of the management at Hardee's was responsible for the rumors, a manager did admit it was possible that members of the crew were repeating the story.

"We just don't know why they closed, so we can't say anything," said a Hardee's manager. "None of the management has said these things, but it might have been the crew."

Nevertheless, it was obvious to (Continued on Page 8)

District 128 board and faculty finally agree

LIBERTYVILLE—The Libertyville High School District 128 school board unanimously approved a two-year teachers' contract at a meeting Nov. 22. Board President David Ransom said the salary and benefit package included a 3.5 percent increase the first year and a 3.9 increase the second year. The teachers had approved the contract the previous week. Federal mediator Robert Shaevel, who is still working with District 187 in North Chicago, was able to bring the two sides together.

Lawsuit filed in Deep Lake Road accident

ANTIOCH—Waukegan attorney Patrick Salvi has filed a lawsuit in Lake County on behalf of John Kennedy of Trevor, Wisconsin as a result of the tragic accident that occurred on Deep Lake Road and North Avenue in Antioch on Oct. 22. Kennedy's wife, Mary Janine Kennedy and their five-month-old male fetus were killed when a car driven by a 16-year-old ran a stop sign at that intersection. The lawsuit charges that Lake County, Northern Illinois Gas Company, Mueller Construction, Barricade Lites Incorporated, and Luciano are guilty of negligence and specifically alleges that the stop sign was obscured by construction barricades. Kenneth Grasser, a 15-year old Lindenhurst resident was also killed in the accident.

Community questions county role in rezoning

LINDENHURST—Village officials are concerned with what they see as a trend with the county rezoning properties and providing services such as sewer and streets in incorporated areas. They say this process could accelerate the growth of the northern quadrant with both villages and the county competing against each other to provide services to commercial and residential developers. James Stevens, village administrator said if the county goes through and rezone a property east of Route 45 called the Bonnie Brae Farm may set a precedent which could lead to expanded growth.

Former police chief sued by his officers

ROUND LAKE PARK—Former Police Chief Dan Viet, Village of Round Lake Park, the police and fire commission were served with a law suit for allegedly incorrectly administering the Sergeant test and test. One of the officers weren't given the opportunity and others taking test were not given the standardized test, the chief participating in construction of the test. Viet resigned with from his position as chief on January 20 and took a position as Sergeant. He is currently a lieutenant on the force. The position was offered to Viet as the village board hired Gene Kelly as police chief.

FOX LAKE—Village Police Chief Jim Busch believes there's never enough training, never enough classes he can send his department to. Being on top of things is priority with Busch. "The more schools I put these guys into, the less liability for the village," said the chief. Everything from DUI classes to crime lab work, to crime scene photography, "It's very seldom that a month goes by that someone isn't going through training," said Busch. The chief agrees that in order to keep his team at its best, "It requires all-around knowledge."

School board member resigns from her seat

LAKE VILLA—Citing poor health District 41 school board member Roberta Ouper has resigned last week. She said she her first obligation to her health and she had to resign her position. Ouper was active in the schools as a volunteer and helped run special events with the schools. She said she would miss being a board member and treasured the time she had a the board. The school board has begun a search of candidates and is hoping to make a decision at their next board meeting on Dec. 15.

Adler Center wins funds for promotion of arts

The funds will be used for the support of the multi-disciplinary program, visual arts and ethnic and folk arts of the American Midwest.

CLC seeks literacy grant to assist area companies

GRAYSLAKE—The College of Lake County plans to apply for another U.S. Department of Education national Workplace Literacy Grant. The money would be used to fund a training program for employees of companies that wish to participate. The college is currently working with four area firms and has scheduled a breakfast meeting at 7:30 a.m. Nov. 29 for other companies interested in this development opportunity.

ELFS listen to stories from village officials

FOX LAKE—Every year, the Early Learning Focus for Students (ELFS) keeps growing. Preschoolers between 3 and 5 years old, are now enrolled in the special program, held at 25 N. Forest Ave. according to Pat Alford, director. Last week, the school held a unique project where "Celebrity Readers" read story books to the young students. Among those, in attendance to help educate and entertain the children were Fox Lake Mayor Ken Hamsher and Police Chief Jim Busch.

Contract settlement reached in District 125

LINCOLNSHIRE—The teachers of the Adlai E. Stevenson High School Education Association and the district board of education have reached a tentative contract agreement which provides an 8.2 increase in total salaries to all teachers over the next two years. This includes a "step freeze" for one year. Teachers will forego the automatic two percent pay raise for each year they have been with the district. The school board approved the two-year contract Nov. 15; the teachers followed suit the next day.

Community Council to tackle large issues

WAUCONDA—The Community Council will hold its first meeting after a one-year layoff as a way of joining forces and combining efforts towards primary issues affecting a large group, such as graffiti and transportation concerns. Founded in 1990, the group will meet at 8 p.m. Nov. 29 in the Wauconda Unit District 118 building, 555 N. Main St. Representatives from village and area governing bodies have been invited to attend.

The meeting was one of several to be held throughout the village in the coming months to let people know who what village services are available to them. Mundelein Police Chief Raymond Rose challenged the residents to form a partnership with the department in fighting crime.

Man charged with DUI, fleeing following chase

LAKE ZURICH—A Crystal Lake man was arrested and charged with multiple charges after leading a Lake Zurich police officer on a high speed chase which eventually led to his capture more than one hour later by officials from multiple police agencies. Daniel L. Adams, 31, was eventually caught after being found by a Vernon Hills canine unit laying in water behind a home in the early morning of Nov. 20. He was later treated at Good Shepherd Hospital for hypothermia and cuts suffered from scaling a barbed wire fence. He was released on bond and has a Dec. 12 court date in Waukegan.

SAVE YOUR FAMILY TIME AND MONEY

Do you know what "probate" is? It is the court process by which debts are paid and assets are distributed to heirs.

When you consider the cost of a will and the fees involved in probate, as compared to setting up a living trust, the trust is a much more reasonable choice. It saves not only money, but time. Your heirs will not have to wait six, nine, or twelve months to receive what you have left them.

What can you do now so that your loved ones can avoid the costly and frustrating probate process? You can attend a FREE ESTATE PLANNING SEMINAR and learn how a living trust can work for your family. A living trust can be defined in simple terms as a will substitute, one that allows your heirs to avoid meeting a probate judge. As the trustee (financial manager) of your trust, you can continue to do the same things you did before the trust existed, such as buy, sell, or give away the trusts' assets. You set up your living trust according to your desires. You are in complete control.

In Illinois, probate is required when the assets total over $50,000. The probate process can be quite costly, reducing the amount of assets that heirs receive. Attorney's fees, court costs and executor's fees can reduce assets that go to the heirs by as much as 10%. There is also a time delay, because the minimum amount of time that an estate would be tied up in probate court in Illinois is six months, but normally probate takes nine to twelve months, and sometimes longer.

Boats again

I live in Lake County and believe that the riverboat plan in Waukegan is a great idea. Think about it, 1,000 jobs. I have just moved here and am having trouble finding a job. How about that, folks that oppose this idea?

Late date

I was just informed that the Grayslake High School has just changed their graduation date to one week later. Changing the date at the beginning of the year would have been fine, but now that it is November, the students have had their hearts set on graduating on May 29. Now they find out there is another week to go. That does not sound right to me.

Get a handle on it

Do you think that the park district can afford to put a handle on the stove of their Legion building? There are many elderly groups that meet there using that stove. There is just a piece of jagged plastic sticking out of one side, but no handle on the door. There is no burner control, the knob is gone. It is a hazard. I know it is a minor thing compared to the new referendum but it should be done for safety's sake.

Good work

Congratulations to the Grayslake Colts varsity cheerleaders. They won a second place trophy in pom-pom routine, and a second place trophy for cheering at the competition in Cary. Too bad it was not even mentioned in the sports pages of this newspaper.

Happy residents

I just moved back to Wauconda and I am proud to live in a place that has two terrific legislators.

Cloudy issue

We are choking in Round Lake Park too. The leaf burning has got to stop. Why don't we compost and then our soil would be improved. By the way, Lipservice, please shorten your lead-in message. I had to listen to the whole thing and now I have to go.

to these idiots from BEST with all of their misinformation. Obviously, Antioch residents do not realize that their real estate values just went down 15 percent. No one wants to move here with the school the way it is. Welcome to the real world, guys.

Exercise objections

You implied, in the article about the Grayslake park referendum, that the reason it failed was due to its high price tag. However, the only reason I did not vote for it was because it included a workout room which is not what a park district should be involved in. I would encourage them to bring the vote back to the people again with a year-round pool and senior/youth facilities.

I want to clarify an earlier statement I made concerning the Long Grove Fire Department. My husband was removed from the department as a result of my complaints about the drinking and driving. I did not blow the whistle on my husband drinking and driving. It was them, the Long Grove Fire Department. My husband was kicked off as a result of my whistle-blowing.

Not cop material

The people who think that the Round Lake Beach police should have a residency requirement should look into how the police are hired. If you had to resort to only hiring people from Round Lake Beach you could end up with a very inferior police department.

I am tired of Bill Clinton. I think we should listen to Hillary instead.

They do it too?

I totally agree with the woman who is speaking out against the departmental drinking and driving. But, I think we forgot about a department. What about the police department? What happens to all of that confiscated alcohol? I have been a part of the back room drinking at a police department several years ago. What happens when they are at a bar? Do they drive home?

Stay in the city

This is in response to the person who says that the people of Antioch drive like jugheads. I used to live in Chicago. I know where the real jugheads are. They are in Chicago. People out here drive a little different. This is country life. If the guy wants to get across town in a hurry, stay in the city!

Tests reveal big spread among Antioch schools

by MARY FOLEY

Lakeland Newspapers

Antioch Consolidated School District, and Emmons School District students scored well above the state average on the 1993 state school report card. However, once again, the students of Grass Lake School displayed not only an academic decline in math and writing scores from last year, but overall scored lower than the state average.

While just up the road, eighth-grade students at Emmons School District performed well in excess of state averages. Grass Lake eighth-graders fell below in state averages by 28 points in mathematics and 3 in writing. However, it must be noted that eighth-grade reading scores at Grass Lake jumped 51 points over last year and 28 points over the state average.

The average reading score for eighth-graders at Antioch Upper Grade School was 288 this year. The score represents a decline of seven points from last year's score, however it was still well in excess of the state average of 258. The math score was 315, up from 285 last year, and the writing score was 27.6, up from last year's 26.6.

Emmons eighth-graders scores were up in all categories from last year as well as above the state averages. Students scored 320 in reading, 361 in mathematics, and 26.8 in writing.

Eighth-graders from all three schools feed into District 117, Antioch Community High School. Students from schools scoring lower on the tests can be expected to experience more academic difficulties when competing with other students. Grass Lake School officials have been grappling with the problem for several years and have been making attempts to upgrade the curriculum.

In addition to the school's academic problems, the school board is also once again looking for a new superintendent. The resignation of Dr. Ruth Bill was accepted by the school board last month, and the board is in the process of searching for a new superintendent.

In the lower grades, District 34 and Emmons students also did well. In Emmons, third grade students scored 301 in reading, 319 in math, and 16.6 in writing. In District 34, students scored 301 in reading, 329 in math, and 18.5 in writing. In Grass Lake Elementary, third-grade students scored 251 in reading, 244 in math, and a whopping 19.8 in writing.

Due to the congested traffic situation at Antioch Upper Grade School, the student unloading procedures have been changed. Buses

Pine Hills work completed

by MARY FOLEY

Lakeland Newspapers

After some rather drastic actions by the Antioch Village Board, the developer of Deer Trails-Pine Hill Lakes-Phase III development have placed the final lift of asphalt on the roads just in time for winter plowing. According to Pete Lezeau, a resident of the Deer Trails at Pine Hill Lakes, the work was done on Saturday.

"Saturday morning the trucks were barreling in," said Lezeau. "They started it early in the morning and finished it Saturday."

The village made several attempts to get the contractor to put the final lift of asphalt on the roads before the winter snows began to fall because the manholes had been elevated for the work. If the asphalt work had not been done, the village would have been unable to plow the snow that accumulated on the roads.

At the last board meeting, village officials voted to notify NBD Bank of their intent to call the letter of credit for $105,000. The village would then have had to go back to the development to lower the manholes for the winter. The letter of credit would have offset the costs of such a project.

However, since the work has been completed, such an action will not be necessary. Still, there are several unfinished projects to complete at the subdivision. The planned walking paths are unfinished, the ponds have not been cleared, and street lights have not yet been installed.

Village Planner, Robert Silhan was unavailable for comment, so it is not yet known if the village intends to continue holding up new construction permits until the remainder of the work is completed.

The Wish Tree needs you to be a Santa's helper. Stop into the Realty World - Keith Johnson Realty, Inc. and make a needy child's Christmas a little more special.

Realty World helps to make wishes come true

by MARY FOLEY

Lakeland Newspapers

Once again, Realty World - Keith Johnson Realty in Antioch are sponsoring the Wish Tree and need your help. This is the second year that the Wish Tree is available to area residents.

The Wish Tree is trimmed with the names of children who may not otherwise receive their special Christmas wishes. The children's names are placed on an ornament, and by volunteering to be a Santa's helper, residents can make those wishes come true.

Approximately 200 names decorate this year's tree which is located in the lobby of the office. The names were provided by the Sharing Center.

To be one of Santa's helpers, stop by the Realty World-Keith Johnson Realty Inc. office and pick up an ornament. The office is located at the corner of Route 83 and North Avenue. All gifts must be in the office by Dec. 17. A cash donation will be accepted in lieu of the gift.

"The sharing spirit is showing this year," said Patti Zurla, a Realtor. "Hopefully, all of the names will be taken soon."

The Wish Tree is an opportunity for all residents to experience the true meaning of the Christmas Holiday. The entire family can join in to make a less fortunate child's Christmas a little more merry.

"It helps if the gifts are wrapped," said Zurla. "But, if that can't be done, it will be taken care of."

Area mom angered by birthday spanking

by MARY FOLEY

Lakeland Newspapers

While it may appear frivolous to some, an Antioch woman is speaking out against "traditional" birthday spankings. In a letter written to Antioch School District 34 Superintendent Don Skidmore, Anne Lynch has asked that the practice of spanking children on their birthdays be discontinued.

According to Lynch, her 6-year-old son became very apprehensive of attending school on his birthday because he feared he would be spanked. While Lynch in no way alleges that the child was harmed, or that school was acting in a malicious manner, she does feel that this birthday tradition has no place in an academic setting.

"Who has the right to do such a thing," Lynch asks. "As a parent, I find this behavior to be obscene and perverted."

According to school officials, the child received a "birthday tap" by a lunch room employee. According to the Principal

Mary Kay McNeill of Antioch Lower Grade School, the child's grandmother, also an employee of the school, was present and found nothing wrong with the action.

While the district has a policy against corporal punishment, officials do not believe that birthday spankings fall within the ambit of such rules.

"There is a board policy against corporal punishment," said Superintendent Don Skidmore. "If it was a birthday spanking it just blows my mind."

Lynch, however, feels very differently. She says that she has emphasized to her son that no one should be allowed to touch him in the "bathing suit area." She feels that permitting such behavior flies in the face of the things she is attempting to teach her son.

"Why are we paying these people to abuse our children," Lynch asks? "The same rules that apply to the students should apply to the teachers and staff. Keep your hands to yourself!"

Theatre time

Antioch is very lucky to have live theatre productions right here in our special "Hometown." The PM&L Theater is in its 33rd season. Future scheduled productions are "Nunsense" in February, "Run for your Wife" in April, "The King and I" in June and "The Foreigner" in August. The PM&L is a non-profit community theatre and contributions are always needed and encouraged to keep this fine community theatre alive and well in Antioch.

A contribution of $150 designates the donor as a PM&L "Angel." An "Angel" is entitled to two season tickets and program acknowledgment. A $75 contribution designates a PM&L "Sponsor." A "Sponsor" is entitled to one season ticket and program acknowledgment. Other contribution amounts are accepted and for further information concerning this, you may contact the theatre. Season pass packages are also available as well as individual show prices.

Seating at the PM&L is limited and reservations are a must to enjoy the fine performances. For reservations call 395-3055.

Where is it?

Pretty little Kira Haley brought in a "Dennis the Menace" VCR tape to view during play time at Camp Crayon. I decided to join the children in this activity. I set up the VCR, announced what was playing for all interested parties and helped the children arrange their chairs accordingly.

I then called to Miss Mary asking her if she was going to make us popcorn like they do at the movie theatre. Ten to fifteen minutes later, little Matthew (Elvis) Marcuccilli pulled a chair to the kitchen window, climbed aboard and peered into the kitchen with a perplexed look on his face. Miss Lois heard him remark "I don't think Miss Mary is making the Popcorn." Boy, oh boy, when will I learn that children take us literally. I thought they all realized I was joking with Miss Mary, meanwhile little Matthew's taste buds were waiting for the popcorn. Sorry, Matthew. I would have enjoyed some too.

In the family

Good parenting and hard work definitely pays off. You recently read about the tennis accomplishments of Margie Lepsi. Since that time, Margie went on to claim her second State Singles Championship. Her season record was 30 wins and 0 losses. Athletic ability and successes run in the Lepsi family and mom and dad, Pat and Bill Lepsi, Jr., were there with their two children every inch of the way encouraging them both by their words and actions. They were always on hand to drive them to and from their meets and practices. They also set up a gym in their home so Margie and Willie could keep in tip top shape at all times.

Margie's tennis involvement at Lyons Township High School not only netted her two state titles, but also a five year scholarship to the University of Tennessee. Margie's older brother, Willie, also won two state titles. However his accomplishments were in wrestling. Willie also received a five year scholarship to the University in Champaign. The frosting on the cake for all members of the Lepsi family was their united commitment to succeed. As they all worked together towards a common goal, they established a family unity that will continue forever.

Congratulations, everyone, Willie, Margie, mom and dad, grandpa and grandma Lepsi.

Scrooge

"A Christmas Carol," the classic tale of Ebenezer Scrooge and his encounter with three ghosts who bring Christmas back to his life, will be performed at the PM&L Theatre on Dec. 3, 4, 5, 10, 11, 12. The Friday and Saturday performances are at 8 p.m. and the Sunday matinee performances are at 2:30 p.m. This production will be made available at a special $5 per ticket (all ages) rate. Seating at the PM&L is limited. Therefore, reservations are a must and can be made by calling 395-3055.

School board

The Nov. 9 Grass Lake School board meeting was well-attended. Many agenda items were discussed or approved. Former board member, Ardeen Harris, was presented an IASB certificate and award and a book was bought for the library in recognition of her years of school board service; the board canvassed the Nov. 2 election results and certified the winners to be Liz Schmehl, Cindy Marquart, Claudia Kasprzak and John Gollon for the four-year terms and Mark Franzen for the two year term; retiring board members, John Fleshman and Sally Hiller were presented with a certificate recognizing their board service.

Don Fechtner was elected Board president, Cindy Marquart the vice president and Marie Brausam was elected the Board secretary; the second Tuesday of each month, at 7 p.m. was established for the monthly board meetings; the school report card was reviewed and reports were received regarding the math committee, articulation meetings, recognition committee and playground progress; the board approved the tax levy and Dec. 14 was set as the date for the public hearing. The next monthly meeting of the Board will be on Dec. 14 at 7 p.m. in the school's media center.

March vote would keep waterway agency afloat

by TINA L. SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

"My heart will sink if I see everything coming to a halt," said Chairman of the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency Dr. William C. Dam.

The chairman is expressing his feelings if the waterway agency located in Fox Lake gets the axe.

Dam explained that when the agency was created, it was only a 10-year deal, and soon that time will be up.

The only way to save the agency and all of its successes including dredging projects which have cleared channels and boating routes of obstructing sediment and debris; sample collecting that insures safe water conditions; and just general clean up and maintenance of the lakes and river, is to vote "yes" on the March ballot that will ask if residents prefer to keep the agency in operation, said Dam.

"I'd just hate to see the plug pulled," said Dam. Executive Director for the agency Karen Kabbes feels the same way.

"The question is, who would take care of things (if the agency were to stop functioning)?" asked Kabbes. "That's why the waterway agency was created," the director added.

The agency is so interested in keeping itself alive, that they don't want to waste any time on the issue, said officials. On Thursday, the referendum question was a major discussion on the meeting agenda.

"If there's going to be a referendum, let's do it in March," Dam said, noting there's no time to waste.

Officials explained that if the majority of voters cast a ballot in favor of the referendum, the agency will still have to get the legislative vote.

Funding will be the same as it has been, explained the chairman, and the use of government grants won't change at all.

Dr. Dam said that he particularly wants people to know what the Chain O' Lakes Fox River Waterway Management Agency is all about, and the positive effects it's had over the last near decade.

One example is the dredging of the once closed-in channels on Grass Lake. According to Dam, Grass Lake has more cleared out channels than anywhere else, but people just aren't aware of it.

Another example is the four-month work the agency has done in Algonquin Township. Dam said that people in Antioch or McHenry usually don't know about this either.

Kabbes and Dam both noted that without the agency, Illinois couldn't possibly be able to take care of the lakes and river, since state dredging crews have been cut down to only one.

Businesses support snowflake

Antioch Upper Grade School hosted Operation Snowflake an ongoing program based on the belief that every child has the ability to make positive healthy decisions about their lives when they are given up-to-date factual information and allowed to develop the skills that are necessary to help them understand themselves and the world around them.

Operation Snowflake is a program for kids planned by kids. It is a day filled with games, speakers, food and opportunities to meet new people, make new friends and learn more about good choices and how to enjoy life.

The day consists of a day-long seminar that focuses on a variety of topics related to adolescent concerns. These topics are presented by several main speakers and followed by small group sessions which are co-led by adult and teen facilitators. Our speakers for the day included; Lon Grohs an Antioch Upper Grade and Antioch High School graduate, Anne Meyer president of the National Federation of Parents for drug free youth and MWAH, a group of teenage students that dance and act with a message.

The Operation Snowflake experience is similar to Operation Snowball. Both are prevention programs whose goals are to help today's youth feel secure about their decision to remain drug-free. Snowball is for high school students and Snowflake is for junior high students.

Area businesses supporting Operation Snowflake include: VFW Sequoia No. 4551, First National Bank of Antioch, Wal-Mart, Antioch Pizza, Mike Pasiewcz A-1 Insurance, Eagle Foods, Pizza Hut, Bank of Waukegan, The Advertiser, Coca-Cola, Antioch News-Reporter, Mr. Roger Shule-T-shirt Design, Domino's Pizza of Antioch, State's Attorney Office-Mike Waller, Antioch Senior Center, Antioch Family Sports Center, TM-Screen Specialties-T-shirts.

Janine Kennedy, Grasser died a week after the accident in Lutheran General Hospital.

The lawsuit, filed by Waukegan attorney Patrick Salvi, charges that Lake County, Northern Illinois Gas Company, Mueller Construction, Barricade Lites Incorporated, and Luciano are guilty of negligence. The thrust of the suit alleges that Mueller, Northern Illinois Gas, and Barricade caused the stop sign at the intersection to be obstructed from the view of oncoming drivers by barricades that were erected.

The suit further charges that Lake County failed to remove the obstruction at the end of the day. Because both North Avenue and Deep Lake Roads are county roads, the county had a duty to supervise the construction at the intersection.

"Given the magnitude of the loss, Mr. Kennedy will be seeking substantial damages," said Salvi. "The discovery phase of the lawsuit will clear up the issue of who was responsible."

At this time the Grasser family has not initiated a lawsuit. Given that the circumstances are the same and the same parties will be named in the lawsuit, it is possible that the Grassers may join in the Kennedy suit. In a telephone interview, Mrs. Grasser said that they expected to meet with their attorney, Richard Smith to discuss the matter.

"It would be my expectation that there will be litigation," said Smith.

The accident was a tragedy, not only for the Kennedy and Grasser families, but for the young driver Brandy Luciano. Luciano was charged with failure to stop, however it now appears that she may not have been able to see the sign.

The Village of Antioch, although not a party to the suit, has sent a letter to Lake County to upgrade the safety measures at that intersection. In an emotional appeal, Pete Lezeau, a resident of the Deer Trails at Pine Hill Lakes, asked the village board for help with the intersection.

According to Lezeau, there have been a number of near-misses and many residents have voiced concerns in the past. A full board approved Lezeau's request to send a letter to Lake County asking for some upgrade of the safety measures. Several options were discussed including a stop light, a flashing caution light, and a reduction in the speed limit.

The celebration begins with the Thanksgiving/Christmas parade which will step off from Hillside and Lake Streets at 9 a.m. The route will follow east on Lake to Main, north on Main to Orchard and west on Orchard to Hillside.

Santa Claus will be at his castle to visit with kids immediately following the parade and all day Saturday. At 10:30 a.m., First National Bank of Antioch will sponsor a free show at the Antioch Theater. Entry to the show is canned goods for the food pantry.

Also at 10:30, PM&L will hold a show for the kids which will be repeated at 1 p.m. "We want to create a safe atmosphere for children to be entertained while mom and dad go out and shop," said LeMere.

At noon, downtown restaurants will offer lunch specials for the family. Carriage rides will run from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The ornament contest will be judged at 1:30 p.m. Antioch area children and adults were asked to make ornaments to hang on the Antioch family Christmas tree in front of village hall.

There will also be a window decorating contest for area merchants. LeMere said the merchants are going all out with the contest.

The day's events will lead up to the tree lighting ceremony at 4:45 p.m. Orchard Street will be blocked off so the community and merchants can gather. Prior to the tree lighting The Discords and the Antioch Community Choir will sing carols. The village will provide songbooks for caroling and free hot chocolate adding to the feeling of Christmas.

First Chicago Bank schedules another 55-Alive program

"Overwhelming" is the description by First Chicago Bank, Antioch President Carl McWherter of public response to the "55-Alive" defensive driving course being co-sponsored by Antioch Chapter of American Association of Retired Persons and First Chicago Bank, Antioch. "We are over-booked beyond capacity for the two-day session scheduled for 1 to 5 p.m. on Nov. 16 and 17, at the Antioch Senior Center, 817 Holbek Dr., Antioch," he reports.

"Consequently, we have had to schedule an additional 'second session' again two weeks later, on Tuesday and Wednesday Nov. 30 and Dec. 1; also from 1 to 5 p.m. at the Antioch Senior Center."

Anyone who has not already registered and paid the $8 registration fee should go to the First Chicago

Bank, 425 Lake St., Antioch, and do so, "as quickly as possible," the Bank urges, "before it also is filled."

Under Illinois law, auto insurance companies are required to give premium discounts to drivers over the age of 55 who have attended the two-afternoon sessions. In Wisconsin, it is optional for the insurance companies, "but most do" according to the Wisconsin

Insurance Dept. Amount of the discount varies according to type and amount of coverage, but typically is reported to be in the $50 to $100 per year range. "Most important, it may save your life," noted First Chicago Bank, Antioch President McWherter.

The program involves no driving or written tests. Simply attending and participating is sufficient to qualify.

School bashing must stop

Taking 'ownership' of our public schools would enable taxpayers to initiate much needed changes.

Harping criticism of the public school system has ceased to be an avenue toward improving an institute admittedly entangled with deficiencies. Exposing of individual teachers' salaries, as was done recently in heated school board elections in Antioch and Libertyville, is a counterproductive strategy.

Hard-core unionists on faculties have become inured to personal attack. Attempts to ridicule teachers about what they are being paid tends to polarize opposing viewpoints, intensifying a "us vs. them" mentality. Besides, there is a broad base of support in the citizenry that current teacher salary scales are either appropriate or low, and that pay increases are necessary or inevitable. Pointing with scorn at what teachers want in the way of compensation has become pointless.

In the current environment, labor leaders in education are "on a roll," not unlike the miners in the 30's, railroad workers in the 40's, construction trades in the 50's, and auto workers in the 60's and 70's. Citizens today are frustrated with their public school system and administrators are befuddled. Politicians typically tend to tinker and avoid hard decisions.

Where does that leave a society that relies on public education as the pathway to individual success and achievement? Indeed, where does that leave a nation that has used publicly funded education as a building block for greatness?

A starting point could well be electors changing their mindset from being victims of an archaic system used to fund public education that is based on real estate ownership to one of stockholders or "owners" of an enterprise that must be run economically and efficiently, and, above all, produce a "profit."

With this change of heart and mind, we believe taxpayers (the "owners") would demand that their huge investment in brick and mortar be utilized to the fullest, certainly more than eight to 10 hours per day for only five days a week and be permitted to be shut down for three months every summer. Year-around operation is basic to reorganizing the public school system.

Going to 12 months operation would go a long way toward solving the discontent and disillusionment over teachers' salaries. The 12 month school is not a "pie in the sky" theory. Wauconda school officials studied year-around operation last year as an option to digging out of financial difficulties.

As owners of one of the biggest businesses in the community, the stockholders will want to see expansion of the "lighted school" policy where there is greater use of classrooms and other facilities. School buildings can be better utilized through networking with other governmental units like park districts for evening and weekend programming at reasonable charges. Schools should be applauded for utilizing unused facilities like the Lake Zurich Unit Dist. has employed for an after-school day care center.

Privatization of as much of the school system as possible is vital to decreasing costs and increasing efficiency. There seems no reason why clerical services, cafeteria, counseling, and non-academic instruction like drivers ed, PE and coaching services couldn't be handled through a bidding process. Private contracting would save every district thousands of dollars in pension, health insurance and related personnel costs.

To maintain the support of their stockholders, administrators and elected school officials will have to develop an entrepreneurial spirit. Instead of succumbing to educational fads and the distractions of academic jargon, they will be expanding concepts like master teacher programs where faculty members are rewarded for productivity and excellence, and not longevity. The educational entrepreneurs will see the benefits of forming partnerships with business and industry. Advantages of more vocational training for interested students will be obvious. More pay could be available for teachers who increase their productivity. "Teacher sharing" among neighboring schools and utilization of lecture techniques common at colleges could be employed beneficially at the high school level.

Once the mindset about public schools is overhauled, there would be benefits for all---merit pay increases for teachers, worthwhile challenges and rewards for the "managers," better education for students and an improved product for society, the "profit."

As the U.S. economy moves into a global economy, business and industry are competing---and excelling---through a combination of good old American initiative and determination. The public school system would do no less---if we all try.

Double deaths leave aching void for church

by BILL SCHROEDER

Sunday morning's 11 o'clock service at Calvary Presbyterian won't be the same any more.

Members of the congregation will be missing the warm and friendly greetings of two church women who could turn dark and dreary Sunday's into instant sunshine with sprightly greetings, "Good morning. How are you?" And, as they often added, "Isn't this a grand day?"

Their friendliness has been lost forever because a drunk driver, lost in an alcoholic fog and careening out of control, snuffed out the lives of two friends in a nightmarish instant on Grand Ave. in Gurnee. The intoxicated driver crashed his pickup truck into their small car as they were headed for a church program after a shopping outing.

Lupe Albright lost her life instantly in the collision that horrified television viewers and sickened readers of newspaper accounts. Wilma Turner, the driver, lingered unconscious and severely brain damaged for several days before her family made the agonizing decision to remove life support.

Today family members and friends still are torn with the grief and anger over how and why such a tragedy could befall two widows who led exemplary lives and brought so much happiness to members of the congregation with their cheery outlooks on life.

The only solace is that the collision occurred suddenly and with such force that Lupe and Wilma had no knowledge of what was happening to them.

What of the driver, Benjamin E. Tilton, 36, of Gurnee, an unemployed painter whose entire adult life has been a struggle with alcohol and substance abuse? Tilton has a lengthy record of traffic infractions and previous drunk driving charges. He has been held in custody since the fatal crash two weeks ago, unable to post bond of $200,000 that would permit his release.

Members of the congregation are wondering what punishment awaits the driver of the vehicle responsible for the double deaths? Is he not unlike the crazed gunman who enters a crowded fast food establishment and cuts down victims with automatic weapons fire? Murderer!

Whatever the outcome of charges against the hapless tradesman who has led such a hollow life, one thing is sure. Had he encountered Lupe and Wilma under different circumstances, perhaps on the front steps of Calvary Church on a sunny Sunday morning, the errant motorist would have been extended a hand of friendship and greeted warmly:

"Good morning. How are you? Isn't this a grand day?"

Praise for good schools

Editor:

It was with a sigh of relief that many of us saw the most capable and experienced people elected to the Dist. 70 School Board rather than Jack Martin's slate of puppets.

When will Martin get the message? While he may do extensive homework on community issues, his attitude and approach are insufferable, even to those who may share his point of view.

At public meetings he consistently pontificates while virtually everyone, including village officials, roll their eyes at his harangues.

A case in point is his latest, counterproductive teacher-bashing. While there may be isolated problems with teachers, Libertyville has an outstanding school system thanks to very professional and hardworking educators. (I'm sure Mr. Martin wouldn't like anyone stereotyping all saddle shop owners as self-righteous, self-impressed businessmen even though a few may fit that description.)

Many parents share my conviction that while taxes aren't a bargain in Libertyville, our children are getting an excellent education.

between the "haves" and the "have nots" in the U.S. cannot continue to exist and allow us to maintain a safe and harmonious world.

It is time for each and every one of us to do our part in healing those wounds by becoming informed, and by becoming friends. At a time when we all need to reach out to each other, the Race Unity Task Force provides a wonderful starting ground. I urge others of all backgrounds and persuasions to also join.

Volunteering for youth

Editor:

I would like to suggest getting a small group of semi-retired businessmen together to go to high schools in the area to have forums on what students can expect looking for jobs and how important it is to go to college.

How to be not afraid and prepare themselves for the future. Help them deal with problems, be it working, family inter-action, and how important it is to choose friends carefully.

Be a mentor, give direction, help the young people who are very bright and perhaps make it a little easier for them. The pressures of today's living are such that they could use a helping hand from those who have experience a lot of living.

Real meaning of NAFTA

Editor:

The U.S. Constitution does not provide for "agreements" such as NAFTA between countries. Only "treaties" are permitted which must have a two-thirds Senate majority vote to pass. The NAFTA "proposal" is unconstitutional.

NAFTA really means: No American Factories Taking Applications.

Election judges miffed at Hess' plug for Ryg

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Serious politicking (is there any other kind?) is off to a fast start for the 1994 primary election.

Three election judges have taken retiring County Clerk Linda Hess to task for "politicizing" her office. Tsk. Tsk.

The judges have accused Hess, lone Democrat among elected county officials, of using an Election Judge Update Session as a platform to introduce her successor, the "only candidate" from the Democratic party. They said Hess put in a plug for having the minority party administering the county clerk's office.

"Shame on you," exclaimed the offended judges, Lorraine Scharlow of Fox Lake (Grant Township), Betty Burns of Lindenhurst (Lake Villa Township), and E.L. "Bo" Johnson of Lake Forest (Shields Township). The trio of judges had plenty on their chest. "You always appeared to be a distinguished county-wide elected official, yet now on the eve of your departure we find out what you've been doing all the time—running your office for the sole benefit of the Lake County Democratic party," they stated. "It is apparent that your party has had this office too long—we need a change."

Phew! Bet they're Republican judges.

Political 'wasteland'—Mayor Michael O'Malley of Hoffman Estates surely didn't disguise his disdain for Congressional types when he commented on the decision of Village Manager Peter Burchard not to run in the GOP primary for Congress against incumbent Phil Crane. "Peter Burchard is the best village manager in Illinois. It would be a shame to waste his talent in Congress," hiszoner asserted. Ouch!

Self-inflicted wound—State's Atty. Jim Ryan of DuPage County, candidate for Illinois attorney general, did himself more harm than good in Lake County when he distributed a 23-year-old comment from his opponent, Metra boss Jeff Ladd.

"Dirty politics," sniffed State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion), regarding the women's rights statement Ladd made in 1970 while serving as a Con-Con delegate. Ladd backers said the comment was dropped off at legislative offices in the middle of the night by an anonymous messenger.

Among other things, the midnight ride identified Lake County has Ladd territory. The Crystal Lake resident has loads of ties in Lake County. Another observation: The Ladd vs. Ryan tussle will be a free swinging affair. Gentlemen: Choose your weapons.

Imported product—Willard Helander, the Republican choice for

Clayton

Lake County clerk, is the first "non-native" county GOP candidate in memory. She's a native of Tennessee, but has resided in the county for 15 years. Her opponent, Kathy Ryg, village clerk of Vernon Hills, didn't just get off the bus, either. Ryg's mom is Mayor Sheila Schultz of Wheeling and the Democratic candidate's political mentor is State Rep. Verna Clayton (R-Buffalo Grove). The Schultz family became close to Clayton when she was mayor of neighboring Buffalo Grove.

U.S. criteria at hand to measure Somalia bid

by PETER S. KARLOVIS

The U.S. should remove its troops from Somalia.

When George Bush committed our troops, the military had a clear mission—restore supply lines to feed hungry Somalis.

Now it appears, after securing the supply routes, our military no longer has a clear mission. The current administration has placed our troops in the cross fire between competing warlords with the intent of providing a human buffer. Somehow, this is supposed to rebuild Somali society.

The Secretary of Defense during the Reagan administration, Casper Weinberger, studied the American experience in

Commentary

Beirut and Vietnam, and established criteria to ensure successful American military missions. Compliance with these criteria directly resulted in victories in Grenada, Panama and the Persian Gulf. The Weinberger criteria are as follows:

1. Do not commit U.S. troops to a conflict until there is a distinct military objective for their presence (i.e. take land, destroy targets).

2. Commit enough troops and equipment to get the job done as quickly as possible, and with minimum loss of life.

3. Develop a plan to remove the troops as quickly as possible after the objective is accomplished.

President Clinton has ignored the Weinberger criteria, and is continuing the U.S. military presence in Somalia, even after the military's mission of restoring supply routes for food relief has been completed. The result has been disastrous, with unnecessary American deaths, and many to follow.

President Clinton should apply the Weinberger criteria to the U.S. military deployment in Somalia. If the criteria cannot be met, President Clinton should bring our troops home. American women and men in uniform are too valuable and deserve no less.

Editor's note: Peter Karlovics is an attorney residing in Gurnee. He was called to active duty during the Persian Gulf War.

Crane gains endorsement of Republican committee

by AUDREY DRISCOLL
Lakeland Newspapers

In a dramatic reversal from two years ago, the Lake County Republican Committee this week gave the nod to incumbent Congressman Phil Crane.

Two years ago, Crane was unable to gather the necessary two-thirds vote for the committee's endorsement but did receive more votes than opponent Gary Skoien. The Lake County endorsement means that Crane received at least 17 of 25 votes.

"This is a very big plus for Phil Crane," said Robert Churchill, chairman of the Republican Party and state representative. "Theoretically we will now focus all our efforts on behalf of the congressman."

Approximately half of the Eighth Congressional District falls in Lake County and half in Cook County. The endorsement of Crane by the Republican Party in Lake County may carry weight with its counterpart in Cook County, Churchill added.

Crane faces the more moderate Skoien, senior vice president for Prime Group, an international real estate development company located in Chicago, and former supporter Peter Fitzgerald a freshman legislator in the state congress, in the March 15 primary. Two years ago Skoien posed a strong threat to the congressman, capturing 45 percent of the vote.

Kirt Johnson, legislative director for the congressman, said the endorsement reaffirms Crane's support in the district. Support for the 24-year incumbent began to wane several years ago in the face of criticism from what Johnson calls "the rank and file Republicans."

"I think the congressman worked very hard to respond to the concerns of Republicans in Lake County," Johnson said. "He bought a house in Wauconda and has made every effort to be in the district more."

Previously Crane faced criticism for long absences from the district and for renting rather than owning a home in the district.

"I think the party saw that Crane took a healthy analysis of himself as a candidate and a public official," Churchill said.

Opposing camps described the endorsement as a disappointment rather than a setback.

"Endorsement meetings generally lend to the power of the incumbency," said Bill Atwood, campaign manager for Gary Skoien. "And we have never had any illusions about the power of Phil Crane to pull out a hard-core, last-minute lobbying effort."

Atwood said, that though Crane has addressed the criticism leveled at him two years ago, he still does not have a commitment to the district.

"So he bought a condo in Wauconda. That still doesn't mean he lives here or that his family lives here," Atwood said. "He is not in touch with what people in this district want. Do we want someone who sends mail here or someone who pays his taxes here, spends his money here and lives here."

Bill Kenyon, campaign manager for Fitzgerald said the endorsement will not hurt the candidate too much because other endorsements might carry more weight. Kenyon said the Fitzgerald campaign would launch one of the "largest grass roots movements the county has ever seen."

At the same meeting, the committee gave a strong endorsement to incumbent Sheriff Clint Grinnell over opponent Ed Sindles. Grinnell took over the office after the death of then-Sheriff Mickey Babcox.

"Clint is the epitome of a good sheriff," Churchill said. "He operates his office by not interfering with the work of other people. We have had trouble in the past with other sheriffs. But with Clint we never hear of any problems."

In the county board race, the committee also endorsed Pam Newton over Bobbie O'Reilly for the 18th district and Martin Paulson over Carol Calabresa for the 15th district.

In the race for attorney general, the committee declared Jeff Ladd and Jim Ryan both qualified for the position.

At the end of the nearly six hour meeting, the committee unanimously endorsed Judge Charles Scott for any appellate court seat he wishes to run for. Currently three seats are open. Other candidates will be considered after Scott makes his decision. The filing date is Dec. 6-13 with a 10 day period to withdrawal from the race. Other candidates will be considered after that time, Churchill said.

Parent Project is named CSAP exemplary program

by AUDREY DRISCOLL
Lakeland Newspapers

The Lake County-based Parent Project has received the 1993 Exemplary Program award from the Center for Substance Abuse Prevention (CSAP).

The Parent Project, a program operated by the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (NICASA), is a free, education and support program for working parents.

"The program is unique and, we think, effective because it goes into the workplace and presents parents with information during their lunch hour," said Sally Foster, vice president of community services for the Lake County United Way. The United Way partially funds the Parent Project program. "Most parents don't have a lot of time to go out and attend workshops of this nature, but when it is presented in such a way it is easier to get parents to attend."

The program teaches parents skills that address discipline techniques, bonding methods, setting boundaries and conflict resolution. The Parent Project emphasizes prevention of substance abuse by teaching parents coping skills and increasing protective factors in the family.

"It is one of the few programs that teaches us how to be parents," Foster said.

Fifty-six programs were submitted in the nationwide contest, with 11 selected as winners. The Parent Project was the only Illinois program to receive the award this year. The contest recognizes progressive alcohol and other drug abuse prevention programs and focuses national attention on exemplary prevention efforts.

Programs are currently in place at Abbott Laboratories, Baxter Healthcare Corporation and McClean-Fogg Industries. An additional program is scheduled to begin in the spring at the Lake County Clerk's Office.

Helander tapped for clerk

by MARY FOLEY
Lakeland Newspapers

Willard Helander, executive director of the Central Lake County Transportation Management Association, has been selected to be the Republican candidate for the Lake County Clerk's office. The Republicans are hoping to fill what has been long been a Democratic stronghold.

While County Democrats have been making big noises about the need for two-party representation in local government, Helander sees the issue more as selecting the best person for the job. She feels that assuming the clerk's position is a Democratic position is as ridiculous as assuming the office is a woman's position.

"There is no disadvantage at all being a Republican," explained Helander. "This is about electing the best person for the job. I think we have the strongest opportunity in 24 years."

According to Helander, her current position at the Central Lake County Transportation Management Association, has given her a great deal of experience in both the public and private sector. She feels that transportation issues effect the quality of life of all residents. The position has afforded her an opportunity to develop her administrative skills as well as her legal abilities. Skills, that she believes, are vital to the position of Lake County Clerk.

Helander, who is a licensed Illinois attorney, believes that the blending of her legal knowledge and her administrative experience clearly places her as the best person for the job. With the new federally mandated motor/voter law, Helander believes that her legal background will be an asset in interpreting and instituting the new law in Lake County.

Helander and her family live in Libertyville.

CLC names Schmidt as capital campaign leader

Dr. Terry R. Schmidt, a staff dentist at the North Chicago VA hospital and a former Chicago Bear, has been named leader of the College of Lake County Foundation's planned capital campaign to raise funds for an instructional performing arts building at the Grayslake campus. The $9.7 million performing arts building, which is currently under construction along with a state-funded classroom building, will provide space for programs in voice, chorus, instrumental music, technical theater arts, fine arts, dance and drama. The facility will also include a 600-seat multi-event theater, a 250-seat intimate theater and a 120-seat black box theater.

The capital campaign is scheduled to kick-off in early 1994. Schmidt said the Foundation is undertaking the campaign in recognition of the integral role CLC plays in the growth and development of Lake County.

"Education has always been a big part of my life and I'm happy to invest my time to help CLC provide even better education to students in Lake County. I'm pleased to take the leadership role and work with a large number of committed co-leaders from the Foundation board of directors such as Bert Carstens, Foundation president and president of American National Bank of Libertyville, to carry out the campaign," he said.

Prior to his present career as a successful dentist, Schmidt earned national recognition as a member of the National Football League. He was a defensive back for the New Orleans Saints from 1974 to 1975 and the Chicago Bears from 1976 to 1984. After retiring from football, he attended Loyola University's School of Dentistry in Maywood. He was valedictorian of his graduating class in 1989.

In detailing the work of the capital campaign, Schmidt said that several steps will be taken in the next few months in preparation for the fundraising drive. These include setting a campaign goal, identifying other group and team leaders, selecting top operational leadership, identifying possible lead gifts and providing volunteer training to cultivate and solicit lead gifts.

"Construction of the performing arts building is needed to help the college meet a growing demand for new services and facilities," said Millicent Berlant, chairperson of the CLC board of trustees.

Richard Anderson, a CLC trustee and the college's finance committee chairman, noted that private efforts will be important in supplementing college funding for the performing arts building because state funding practices limit support for arts facilities.

"State funding isn't available and the college's regular operating budget doesn't really provide for projects like this," Anderson said. "The capital campaign is needed to help ensure that the college continues to have the financial resources to meet the county's changing educational needs."

CLC board approves 10 percent levy increase

Following a public hearing, the College of Lake County board of trustees Tuesday night approved a $23.71 million estimated tax levy for 1993. The levy represents a 10.21 percent increase over last year's levy of $21.51 million.

Art Kent, vice-president of administrative affairs, attributed the increase to a rise in 1992 consumer price index and the addition of new construction to the county's tax rolls. The 1993 levy will be based upon an estimated tax rate of 21.2 cents per $100 in assessed value for most CLC district residents, a decrease from last year's rate of 22 cents.

In his monthly report, CLC President Daniel J. LaVista announced that as directed by the trustees, he had notified the City of Waukegan that the college will not pursue acquisition of the Globe

Building at this time. LaVista notified Mayor Bill Durkin of the decision by letter Tuesday, informing him that the determination was reached after a thorough examination of the possible long-term cost implications for the college. At Tuesday night's meeting, LaVista expressed the board's continued interest in expanding services to Lakeshore campus students. He said the college will examine a variety of expansion options in the Waukegan area.

In other matters, newly elected Chairperson Oilschlagel recognized outgoing board chairwoman Millicent Berlant for her service and leadership during the past year and presented her with a gift. Student trustee Jennifer Bussone also made a presentation requesting that the board grant advisory voting status to the student trustee.

County Restaurant Association awards $500 culinary scholarship

by TINA L. SWIECH
Lakeland Newspapers

A $500 culinary scholarship was awarded to Jean Zegar, from the Lake County Restaurant Association.

Zegar, a Waukegan resident, and culinary student at the College of Lake County in Grayslake, a working mother of three, was the lucky recipient of the scholarship that the Restaurant Association awarded on Nov. 15 at the Birchwood Country Club in Highland Park.

Hal Axelrod, president of the county restaurant association and owner of Dancing Noodles Cafe in Highland Park said that fund-raising and helping food service students through school is the main goal of the association.

"That's what we're all about, trying to help others," said Axelrod.

The association president said that over the years, the organization would donated two-$250 scholarships, but this year they combined the lot.

Rosemary Mers, of Mers Restaurant in Wauconda is a longtime director on the association. Mers explained that the Lake County Restaurant Association, a branch of the Illinois Restaurant Association raises money all year long from such events as an annual golf outing held over the summer.

Lexington homes predicts 10 percent market growth

by AUDREY DRISCOLL
Lakeland Newspapers

An upswing in first- and second-time home buyers indicates a rise in the consumer confidence level, according to Richard Van Schaardenburg, president of the Arlington Heights-based Lexington Homes which has many developments in Lake County.

Van Schaardenburg predicts that pent-up demand and rising consumer confidence levels in 1994 will result in an increase of up to 10 percent in Chicagoland's housing market during the coming year.

With demand for housing on the rise, some observers expect prices to follow, however Van Schaardenburg does not agree.

"In today's economy, consumers are demanding greater value for their dollar," Van Schaardenburg said. "So despite a tremendous pressure to raise prices in response to outside influences, we have instead had to become more efficient in our business and with our home designs in order to avoid increasing prices in any significant way," he said.

Van Schaardenburg predicts the increase in demand for "move-up" homes will continue through 1996. He credits the growth in demand to several factors including a brighter job outlook for Chicago and the suburbs and a decrease in inflation—3.7 percent in May to 2.8 percent in September—combined with lower interest rates which will begin to show positive results on corporate profit margins.

"Corporate belt tightening should ease up significantly in 1994," Van Schaardenburg said. "Most CEOs were forced to cut down to the bone this year. Operations are running very lean, leaving little room for further cutbacks and plenty of room for growth," said Van Schaardenburg.

As the economy eases its way back from the recessionary downslide of the past several years, American consumers are being careful to avoid repeating mistakes, especially when it comes to buying a new home.

The Signery places first

The Signery, 670 E. Hawley in Mundelein, received the blue ribbon in a national Halloween sign competition conducted by the Signery Corporation.

The sign, about 22 by 28 inches in size, depicts an authentic corn shuck scarecrow holding a sign with the desired greeting. The sign, appropriately adorned with the blue ribbon, is on display at the store. Owner Joyce Campbell attributed the win to the graphic art in the design.

The Signery has been in business several years in Mundelein and was the first company of its kind in the area to produce quality signs from computer graphics.

Hastings Lake YMCA child care lauded at top option

by SUZIE REED
Lakeland Newspapers

A number of large corporations in Lake County have designated Hastings Lake YMCA, 21155 W. Gelden Rd. in Lake Villa as their choice for quality child care.

Allstate Insurance, Hewitt Associates, Kraft/General Foods, Motorola Inc., and the American Business Collaboration for Quality Dependent Care have awarded a contract to the facility for its school-age care program.

The center offers flexible care before and after school in a camp atmosphere as well as a kindergarten enrichment program. The Vacation/Holiday Program serves children on all holidays, school vacations days and teacher institute days. Students come from schools in the Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Woodland and Antioch areas.

When families register their children they receive a calendar with all scheduled days off as well as sign-up sheets. Students in the community are welcome along with children of corporate employees.

"We are flexible to the scheduling needs of the working parent," said child care director Andrea Warner. "We bring the best of child care and incorporate it into our challenging camp programs."

Cutting the ribbon

Census Bureau ready to survey area households

Local representatives of the U.S. Census Bureau will visit selected area households beginning Dec. 1 to conduct its Survey of Income and Program Participation (SIPP), Stanley D. Moore, director of the bureau's Chicago regional office announced.

SIPP is a continuing nationwide survey introduced in the fall of 1983. It is one of the nation's largest, with about 60,000 households participating.

The Census Bureau publishes periodic reports with information from the survey. Subjects covered include the following:

- Jobs and earnings.
- The economic effects of unemployment, disability, and retirement.
- How taxes affect personal spending.
- Participation in programs such as Social Security, Medicare, Medicaid, food stamps, and pension plans.

Information from SIPP helps policy-makers and administrators determine how well government programs are serving the public and how changes in programs and policies will affect the public.

Here are some facts about persons and their health insurance between 1987 and 1990, based upon findings from the survey. (The sample size limits accurate reporting to national figures only.)

• Twenty-one percent of all U.S. residents—approximately 50 million—lacked health insurance for at least a month during 1987.

• The average monthly total of uninsured persons in the final quarter of 1990 was 13 percent of the population or about 32 million.

• Twenty-eight percent of men lacked continuous health insurance between 1987 and 1989 compared with 25 percent of women because of higher levels of Medicaid and Medicare coverage among women.

• Forty-six percent of Hispanics lacked insurance for at least a month between 1987 and 1989. Among racial groups, the percentages lacking insurance for at least a month were 40 percent for African Americans and 24 percent for Whites.

• Private health insurance covered 91 percent of Whites and about 75 percent of African Americans and Hispanics for at least one month between 1987 and 1989.

• One-half of persons ages 18 to 21 had no insurance for a month or more. For those aged 25 to 44, 73 percent had continuous coverage compared with 82 percent of those aged 45 to 64, and 99 percent of those aged 65 and over.

Ellison is radio's voice of oil experience

by SPENCER SCHEIN
Lakeland Newspapers

Jim Ellison has lived in the fast lane for the past 34 years as crew chief for many nationally known stock car drivers who have appeared on radio and television ads all across the country, and has now stepped out from behind the retaining wall for a commercial of his very own.

Ellison, owner of Ellison Auto

Entrepreneur

Clinic, Inc., in Wauconda, was selected by the Valvoline Oil Corporation earlier this year to be a spokesman for their product in a radio ad running on stations in and around Chicago. Since taping the ad at a downtown radio studio in April, the commercial has run on several stations during the morning and afternoon drive-time hours.

Ellison said he had no other involvement with the company other than using its oil.

"I think the commercial has helped business," Ellison said. "A lot of customers, friends and family have heard (it) and (have) been talking about it."

During the taping, he was given a list of questions to answer, and gave several responses to allow the advertiser a choice.

"The questions were about my experience with Valvoline oil in auto racing and auto repairing," he said, "also establishing my credibility as a certified mechanic and (my) experience in auto racing."

Ellison started out drag racing as a teen-ager around the midwest, winning races in Lake Geneva, Union Grove and at the U.S. 30 Drag Strip, before moving on to stock cars in 1967. He won a number of races at the Waukegan and Grundy County Speedways on dirt tracks in Sycamore and Lake Geneva. Ellison ended up one season at Waukegan second in championship points.

He has worked as a crew chief and mechanic on the Automotive Speed Association and ARTGO racing circuits and has worked for numerous drivers, including Neil Bonnett, Kyle Petty, Mark Martin and Alan Kulwicki in the beginning of his career in 1986 and 1987.

Kulwicki later went on to winning the NASCAR season championship before dying in a plane crash last year.

Currently, he helps out Jim Sauter and his son Jay with their racing careers.

Ellison won several season championships on the ASA and ARTGO circuits from 1977 to 1982, winning the Miller 200 Milwaukee Mile, Nashville All American 400, the Molson 300 in Canada and the Minnesota State Fair 300, before moving on to the NASCAR circuit in 1983.

He has owned the auto clinic for 15 years and has been in his present location of 390 W. Liberty St., one-half mile east of Route 12, hidden behind ERA Realty for the past four years, where he has eight employees, including his wife Sandy and his daughter Cheryl.

Gurnee Mills preps for record-breaking holiday

Gurnee Mills merchants are gearing up for a merry Christmas shopping season, with mall management projecting more than three-and-a-half million holiday shoppers throughout the months of November and December. With the mega-mall's 1993 traffic counts substantially ahead of last year's to day, projections suggest an increase over 1992 holiday traffic, which in just two months topped the annual number of visitors to the nearby Six Flag's Great America theme park, Chicago's Sears Tower and the Shedd Aquarium.

More than 800 bus loads of bargain-hunters, some from as far away as Switzerland, have already booked their holiday trips to Gurnee Mills.

More than 20 new stores have opened at the discount mega-mall since last year's holiday season, including three anchors—the Midwest's first Clearinghouse by Saks Fifth Avenue, an 80,000-square-foot Burlington Coat Factory, and a 40,000-square-foot-Syms store. Other openings include T.J. Maxx, Casual Corner, Foot Locker, Vanity, Barbizon, the Home Store, IB Diffusion and a state-of-the-art Panasonic/Technics Outlet by Current Trends. By mid-December, construction will be complete on a 10-screen, in mall movie theater, Gurnee Cinemas.

A continual serenade of seasonal cheer provided by more than 100 local bands and choirs will greet Gurnee Mills shoppers throughout the month of December.

Spreading holiday cheer to those less fortunate, Gurnee Mills shoppers may choose to drop off new playthings to be distributed to disadvantaged children by the U.S. Marine Corps' Toys of Tots campaign, or select the name of an underprivileged youngster from Catholic Charities' Angel Tree and provide a special gift for that child. The mall's gift wrapping concession will be operated by the Salvation Army which, of course, will also position its familiar red collection pots at mall entrances.

PURAC fined by the EPA for non-compliance

by SUZIE REED
Lakeland Newspapers

PURAC America Inc. of Lincolnshire has been assigned a fine of $28,900 resulting from a complaint by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The complaint was filed because the company had neglected to report chemicals that had been imported to their facility.

PURAC had received 800,000 pounds of ethyl lactate and 50,000 pounds of butyl lactate. Reports on imports of this nature are required by the EPA every four years.

When PURAC signed the complaint, officials indicated that the violations had been corrected.

First Chicago reports record earnings

First Chicago Corp. reported record net income of $284 million, or $3.14 per common share, for the third quarter of 1993. Return on common stockholders' equity was 34 percent.

Earnings excluding the venture capital business were $1.78 per share. These earnings were derived principally from core businesses—consumer, middle market and large corporate banking.

In the 1992 third quarter, First Chicago recorded a quarterly loss of $372 million, resulting largely from the $625 million special provision for credit losses related to the establishment of the accelerated asset disposition program.

"The most gratifying aspect of our third quarter was the strong performance turned in by each of our major businesses," Chairman Richard L. Thomas aid. "In addition to the positive trend of core earnings, we are encouraged by our success in building our competitive positions in these businesses, which should augur well for the future.

"Moreover, over very large equity portfolio continues to produce incremental earnings and capital for the Corporation," Thomas added.

For the first nine months of 1993, net income was $632 million, or $6.94 per common share. Excluding venture capital, earnings were $440 million, or $4.68 per share. For the first nine months of 1992, the net loss was $43 million, or $1.02 per common share, including the cumulative impact of changes in accounting principles.

Lakeland
Newspapers

comes around. The majority of students here are good. You had a chance at the world, and we deserve a chance too.

Garbage and jobs?

I am glad we beat the referendum at Antioch High School. The kids are throwing garbage and cans all over hell. They are not smart, they are stupid. Do they think that the senior citizens will give them what they want? No thank you. Go out and get jobs.

Doesn't get it

It has happened again. While, people here once again have voted to protect the wildlife and wetlands, they will not protect their own children's education. I don't get it.

Road comedy

I have a question for Mayor Davis. Will Cedar Lake Road be finished by the end of 1994? Ha, ha, ha.

Voted yes too

Well, if everyone who voted for Antioch's District 117 referendum thinks like the lame brain, "Super inflation" no wonder the referendum failed. Guess what, super idiot? Your taxes did not go up because of the school. Either other taxes have increased or your property values have increased. District 117 has nothing to do with your tax increase. You will probably be the first to complain when Antioch dies a slow death for lack of development.

You pay for it

Burning leaves smell wonderful in Fox Lake compared to what we had to smell during the summer. Burning garbage! It is so nice to be forced into your home with the windows up in 90 degree heat. We all have to pay a garbage bill. Why not let the garbage people pick it up?

Simple solution

Folks, if you want to hire more teachers and expand your schools, you must increase the impact fees. It is as simple as that.

Few that rule

I am calling about the ruined Christmas, Easter, and Halloween holidays. When I was growing up I was taught that the majority rules. Now, it seems like that is not true. It is the few that rule. When the American Civil Liberties bunch get a hold of something, no one can seem to do anything about it. It is a shame. After all, this isn't Russia yet. I am very upset by this.

Got it wrong

To the veteran who thinks that the Christians are performing abortions, you are wrong. They are fighting to stop abortions and to sanctify life. Many times they are abused and put in jail for this.

Turn her in

I am a school bus driver. The lady who saw all the children running around should take the name of the driver and the bus number and report that to the school. It is the bus driver's responsibility for the safety of children. If the children are running, it is the bus driver's fault, not the bus company. The driver is responsible. Call the school, they will stop it.

Another point of view

Halloween and Christmas, as well as many other holidays have their origins from the pagan religions. Not from the Christian religions. If you are a Christian, why do you celebrate them? Being that they are religious holidays, it is best that they are kept out of public institutions. Cheers for the ACLU that keep the bigoted religious from forcing their religions on others.

Think about it

Before you start shooting cats, consider this. Cats, in some families, are a very significant part of people's lives. There are often considered part of the family. Some couples who cannot conceive a child often get a pet to fill a void in their lives. Many elderly people are extremely attached to their pets. It has been shown that pets have a natural healing effect on sick people and can also help lower blood pressure. If you were to kill someone's pet, it would be cruel and devastating to the owner.

Clear to her

I am sick and tired of people arguing about a woman's right to have an abortion. There is nothing to argue about. Abortion, plain and simple, is murder.

Couple of questions

I am from Antioch and I would like to say a couple of things to the BEST organization. First, where were they when the superintendent of District 34 got a 20 percent pay raise? Secondly, where is the better education for the high school now?

Took offense

I take offense by the Vietnam veteran who said that all Christians are hypocrites, bullies, and cowards. I am Christian, but I am also pro-choice. While generally, I think that abortion is wrong, but sometimes it is the best of a bunch of bad alternatives. I think it is hard decision for any woman to make, but it is hers alone and we should not judge her. The real hypocrites are the pro-lifers that bomb clinics and kill doctors.

Not going to take it

Are you sick and tired of opening up a bill and finding a ream of literature with it? Do like I do. Send it back to them with your bill and payment. They appreciate it. And tell them you are not going to take it anymore.

More threats

Cats have just as much right to be outdoors as any animal. If I see anybody shooting my cats, I will shoot you. Hope you have a good doctor.

Dogs bark

I am wondering about the stupidity of the person who complained about dogs barking in the morning when he takes his own dog for a walk. My dogs have every right to be in their own yard to get their exercise. I work during the day and I do not have the luxury of being able to walk my dogs every morning. If you don't like it, don't walk your dog and keep it in a dog run.

Rosebud plays in intimate setting

Tom Hausman

The stage is a place to explore what we would like to say and often times aren't able to do.

In that vein, dinner theaters are springing up across the nation for those who have the creativity and for people who want to see art played out live in front of them.

One of the most successful area dinner theaters is Rosebud Productions at Andre's Steakhouse in Richmond. Tom

by ALEC JUNGE

Hausman and a nucleus of actors display top-notch plays every year.

"It's nice to have a chance to get away from yourself and be somebody completely different," Hausman said. "You get an immediate response from the audience. If you're doing well the crowd will give you applause and if we're doing a comedy and they're laughing then you know you're doing your job."

The intimate nature of playing in a small theater presents itself to a whole different audience reaction.

"They are so close the audience actually talks to us. They are right next to the stage when we are playing to bigger crowds," Hausman added.

Hausman was one of the first actors when the theater opened 17 years ago. He became the director six years ago and named it Rosebud Productions after his hobby of growing roses. He has over 180 roses he grows and was past present of the Northeast Illinois Rose Society.

"I also named it after the movie 'Citizen Kane.' The name has both theatrical and botanical elements," Hausman added.

Hausman has been active in other aspects of theater as well. He was a past present of PM&L in Antioch and helped get the addition of the theater during his tenure. He still acts for them and does take some of the actors in some of the productions. He is a teacher in Wilmot, Wis.

For most of the productions the cast is about four to six characters. Most of the actors have worked with Hausman for 20 years. He says there are new people coming every year.

"We usually have a cast of four to six depending on the production. We always have some new actors every year and different plays, different types of characters," Hausman said.

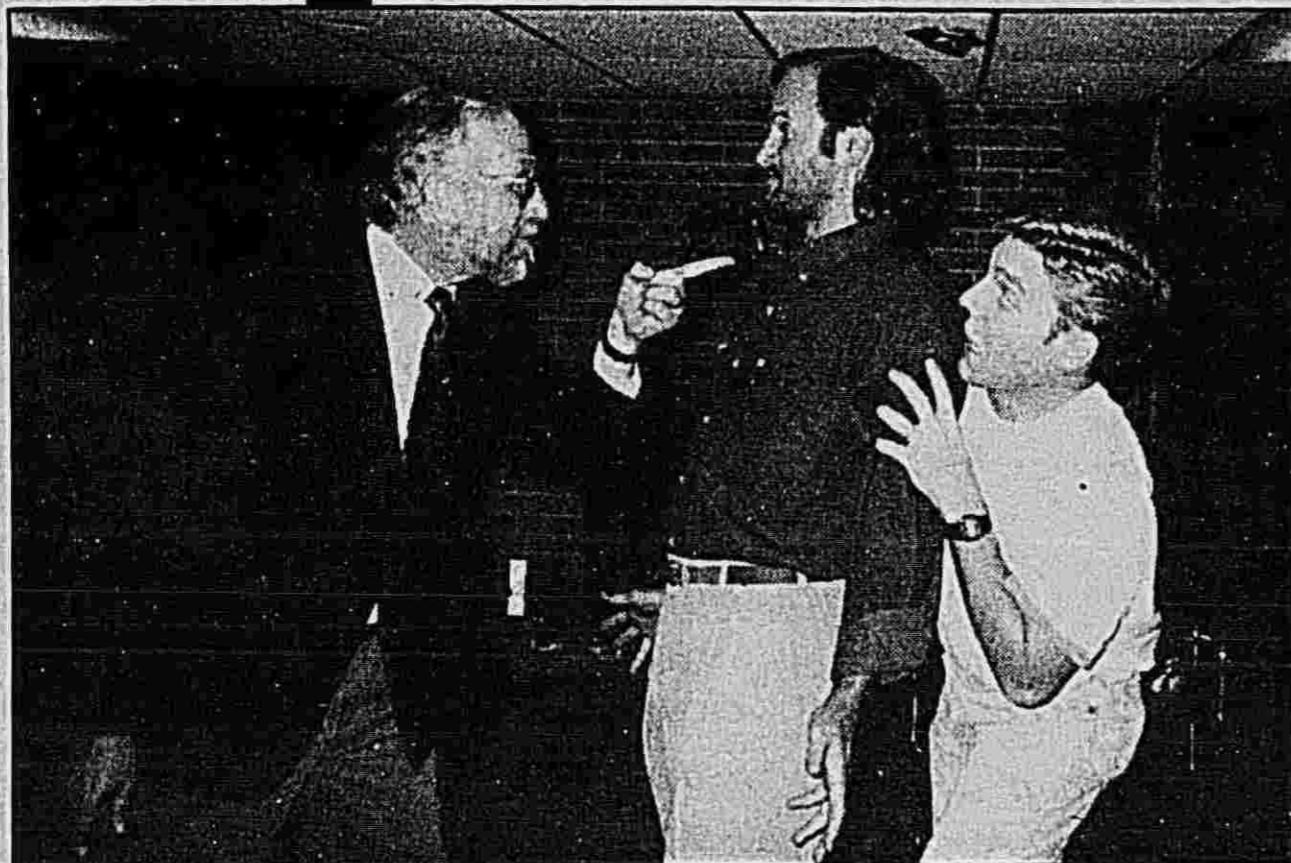

The theater holds about 160 people and has four plays a season. The focus is on adult comedies and the 1994 season is going to be no different.

The schedule includes comedies "Social Security" in January, "Owl and the Pussycat" in February, "No Tea Please, We're British" in March and "Bullshot Crummond" a parody of 1930's B movies in November.

The actors practice about three to four hours a day, four nights a week.

The box office was down a little for this year but has picked up for the last play of the 1993 season, "Come Blow Your Horn."

"I hope the economy will pick up and people will come back to the theater again," Hausman said.

"Come Blow Your Horn" Rosebud Productions current play runs for one more weekend Nov. 26 and 27. Call (815)678-2671.

Santa Claus is coming to town

The Melikin Puppet Troupe will once again be weaving their magic spells when they present "The Night Before Christmas" and "The Shoemaker and the Elves" as a holiday treat for the little ones, Dec. 1 and 2 at the Mundelein Theatre, 155 N. Seymour in Mundelein at 10:30 a.m.

"The Night Before Christmas" is the ever popular holiday treat. You've heard it before but never told through the eyes of "Woofer" the family pet dog. Woofer becomes Santa's helper, filling the stockings, making sure the toys work and as a reward, receives a very "special" Christmas present.

The popular Grimm's tale "The Shoemaker and the Elves" tells of how Santa's Elves help a poor shoemaker make a merrier Christmas for all.

The Melikin Puppets are the creation of Mel and LeVerne Biske who along with sons Neal and Jeff, have presented their puppet theatre to thousands of children nationally over the past 25 years.

The cost of the show is $2.75 each with groups receiving the added advantage of a free chaperon with every 20 children. Seating is limited and reservations are necessary. For more information, call Bonnie or Laura at 564-9060.

Bowen to present a 'Home for Christmas'

"A Home for Christmas," an original one-act play by Donna Abear, is being presented by the Bowen Park Theatre Company at the Jack Benny Center for the Arts, 39 Jack Benny Drive, Waukegan Dec. 6-11.

Mark Heller directs this heartwarming story about a homeless family at Christmas time—a holiday treat for pre-schoolers to pre-teens.

Performance times vary on weekdays and are set for 10 and 11:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. on Dec. 11. All tickets are $3. For ticket and performance information call 360-4741.

'Kabuki Medea' presents fine example of Japanese art form

Critic's Choice

The kabuki style of Japanese theater relies almost entirely on pageantry and stylization. Its performers appear with heavily painted faces and elaborate, colorful robes and gowns.

Gestures can be as subtle as a wink or as pronounced as a sweeping arc that's suddenly frozen in time.

And Wisdom Bridge Theatre, marking its 20th anniversary with a remounting of "Kabuki Medea," is presenting as fine an example of this art form as any to grace a Chicago stage in recent years.

Beautifully designed and directed by Shozo Sato, "Kabuki Medea" was written by Bill Streib and Lou Anne Wright. It tells the mournful story of Euripides' "Medea," a woman enchanted by Jason and for whose love she slays her own brother in order for them to flee to their exile.

Ten years and two sons later, Jason declares it's his fate to die a king, and he insists on divorcing Medea so he can marry the daughter of King Creon of Corinth. Horrifying scenes of revenge follow. Flames painted on a cape suggest the fiery death of the young, disdainful princess (Julie Greenberg) as a cascade of red ribbons depict the carnage of Jason's children.

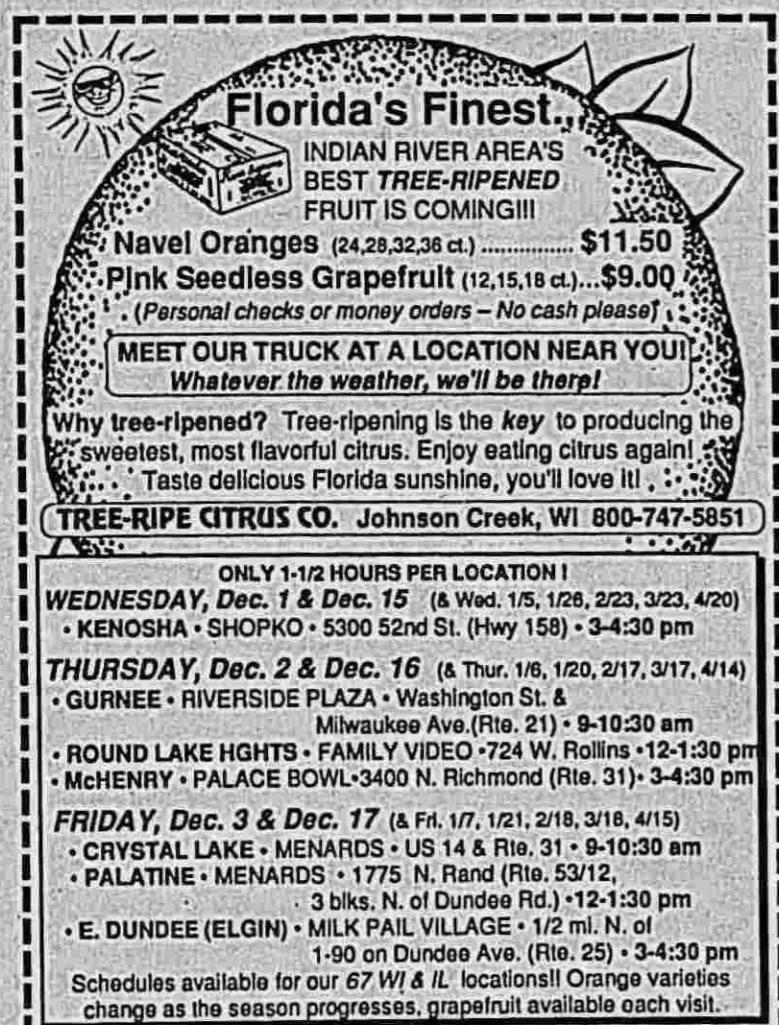

Barbara Robertson reprises the title role in a remarkable, haunting and at times other-worldly performance. Equally stunning is Henry Godinez, as Jason, who appeared in "Kabuki Medea" in 1984. Kathy Santen, meanwhile, is masterful as Medea's sympathetic nurse.

Sato has also assembled a talented chorus that serves as a perfect sounding board as the story unfolds. And he has created so many memorable scenes, including a dream-like underwater battle between Jason and the Golden Dragon.

"Kabuki Medea" runs through Nov. 28. Ticket information is available at (312)743-6000.—by TOM WITOM

El Barrio serves up Tex-Mex favorites

Those with a taste for authentic Tex-Mex cuisine need not travel to the southwest. The real thing can be found right here in Lake County in the Diamond Lake "neighborhood" of Mundelein.

El Barrio Restaurant, 1122 Diamond Lake Rd., has been a popular casual eatery since it first opened in 1971. The Arebalo family hails from San Antonio, Texas, and a number of their specialties are made from old family recipes.

The restaurant is now owned by Armando Arebalo Jr. The building has undergone five additions since the first 16-by-16-foot dining room, the most recent one only a couple of years ago. A south-of-the-border motif complete with piñatas and cheerful fiesta music give diners an idea of the delights to come.

A large and varied menu contains southwest standards as well as a few unusual combinations, and offers everything from tacos to steak to three egg dishes and a large selection of appetizers and desserts. Menu items are also available for carry-out.

"Our fajitas are very popular right now," said Arebalo. The menu lists not only beef and chicken but shrimp and scampi.

The seasonings, Arebalo said, are mild, for popular tastes, but salsa and spices are available for added zest.

El Barrio offers reduced prices on six selected menu items on Tuesday and Thursday nights—family night.

The dining room has a seating capacity of 150, and the bar accommodates another 50. A private banquet room is perfect for parties up to 50.

The inviting lounge is equipped with a television. The margaritas at El Barrio are legendary, and are available in a variety of flavors.

"We squeeze our own limes," said Arebalo. "We use 250 to 300 pounds a week."

Business hours at El Barrio are 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 11:30 a.m. to 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and 3 to 10 p.m. Sunday. No smoking seating is available and the restaurant accepts American Express, Mastercard, Visa and Discover cards.

Bavaro Hair brings back '60s look

"I'm glad to see some excitement back into fashion," says Gino Bavaro of Bavaro Hair in Vernon Hills. "It frees us to bring back the idea of glamorous hair." Bavaro's '94 fashion collection of hairstyles reflects the designers' turn back toward the sixties, with a nineties spin. "In my updated version of a short sixties cut, for example," says Bavaro, "you will see the forward motion and softer shapes characteristic of the nineties with backcombing from the sixties at the crown. The result is a kind of radical bouffant. I love the heightened crown and the heightened sense of femininity that it brings."

"By taking some of the sixties effect of this collection, like thinning and teasing the hair for volume and lightness, and combing them with the more futuristic effects of today's cuts, like short bangs and forward movement, we are creating some very exciting styles," says Bavaro. "I think they offer just what women want in a good cut right now—lightness, volume, movement, softness, and ease. Find out more

'Carlito' an enigma, long and heavy

Even though we really don't need another movie about a Latino drug dealer, Director Brian De Palma and Oscar winner Al Pacino have raised "Carlito's Way" just a cut above the usual low-life flick.

Carlos Brigante, nicknamed Carlito, after serving hard time for big time drug dealing in the 1970s, has had enough of the bad life and wants to start over in the nightclub business with partner Sean Penn, but somehow his old sins return to haunt him.

Obviously the futility of going straight when hanging around a freako coke-head like Penn, never dawns on Carlito. Penn's version of the weirdo hophead buddy is outstanding.

It would be nice to believe that a Carlito, who has been the worst sort of criminal from puberty on, could turn into the "new and thoughtful" Carlito.

It would also be nice to be able to believe that Carlito's girlfriend, Penelope Ann Miller - who hangs out with the same rubble that Penn and Pacino do - is almost as pure as the driven snow deep down, ergo the romantic love story.

Pacino, who often sounds more Italian than Hispanic, while turning in a dark and intense performance, lends and women of all ages, meets the fourth Sunday of each month at the Condell Day Center, 700 Garfield, Libertyville, at 2 p.m. The next meeting will be Nov. 28 and the program will be "Nature from Florida to California." Dinner at a local restaurant is optional. For further information, call 362-2900.

TUESDAY

Woods and Wetlands

The Woods and Wetlands Group of the Illinois Chapter of the Sierra Club will hold a monthly program meeting Tuesday, Nov. 30 at Deerfield High School, 1959 N. Waukegan Rd., Room D101. The meeting will begin at 7:15 p.m. This month's meeting "Comparing Clinton's Promises to Reality" will be presented by Jack Darin, an Illinois Chapter Representative for the Sierra Club. Darin will discuss Clinton's environmental promises and his actions, the direction of the federal government and what concerned citizens can do about it.

Mom's Place

Mom's Place, a drop-in center for moms and preschoolers with planned activities and speakers, meets Tuesdays at First Baptist Church in North Chicago, Thursdays at Ingleside-United Methodist Church, and Fridays at First United Methodist Church in Waukegan. Meetings are from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at all locations. No fee involved. For more information call Carol at 587-6655.

Al Pacino

excitement to the early Carlito, and De Palma excels with a great chase scene that involves shooting from the down escalator to the up escalator.

Pacino, whose character reeks of death from the beginning, is less interesting and more mundane as the reformed drug dealer.

Since De Palma's middle name must be either Dark or Illicit, the people, and the story follow familiar lines. So obviously the audience doesn't dance out of the theater happily humming "Singing in the Rain."

Though the believability of the script leaves a lot to be desired, if one needs another reminder of the debasement of today's society, see "Carlito's Way," rated three out of five stars on the strength of Pacino's innate magnetism, although Carlito is often a composite of all of Pacino's other gangster creations. Penn's odder than odd, queerer than queer, wild performance, is worth the trip to the theater.

"Carlito's Way" runs over two hours and is of course, rated a big fat "R." —by Gloria Davis

How to make yourself look years younger

The secret to eternal youth is something that has fascinated scientists and science fiction writers for years. As yet, no one has found the answer, but certainly today's women has a far better chance of living longer, staying healthy and keeping her looks than her great grandmother did.

Here are some of the ways you can make the most of the rest of your life, whatever your age:

1. Eat a healthy diet. This gives your body the fuel it needs to function properly—make sure it includes whole-grain breads, fresh fruit and cereals. Cut down on fats and sugars.

A good eating pattern should enable you to keep your weight fairly stable.

2. Keep yourself moving! Don't fall into the trap of saying "I'm getting older, so I've got to slow down."

A brisk daily walk does wonders for your general well-being. Alternatively, take up a new sport or catch up on one you enjoyed a few years ago.

3. Exercise the mind as well as the body. Join a class at your local community college.

4. Look after your skin. The main cause of wrin-king and age spots is sun damage, so always use a good sunscreen.

Adopt a good basic skin care routine of cleanse, tone and moisturize. Remember that skin changes as you get older, just because you had greasy skin in your teens, it doesn't mean you have greasy skin now.

5. Don't smoke, and only drink alcohol in moderation.

6. Don't get stuck in a hair and makeup rut. The looks that suited you ten years ago are not necessarily the most flattering now.—by CAROLYN HENDERSON

Drugs may become more dangerous for elderly

Prescribing for the elderly is a very complex problem. What do I mean by the elderly? Even that is difficult to define. There are men and women in their mid-80s who are in much better shape than some people in their 60s.

In general, however, the body system of a 75-year-old man or woman cannot process any prescribed drug as efficiently as can a young person's. A simple example: a man of 75 can't cope with alcohol as easily as his son or grandson.

Numerous factors contribute to the older man's reaction to drugs. His blood chemistry is different. His body is more shrunken and lacking in body water to dilute the drug, be it alcohol or prescribed medicines.

Many drugs are broken down and processed in the liver, but granddad's liver has gotten smaller and the blood flow to it is reduced, accounting for a slower breakdown of drugs in his body.

Filtering and drainage by his kidneys may be reduced as part of aging.

Although he may appear to be as sharp as a razor in conversation, his brain may be affected by drugs. An older man's brain is more sensitive to valium and the other benzodiazepines, causing a tendency to sway and an dangerous side effects. Diabetes medication and pills to thin his blood may combine to put him at increased risk of internal bleeding and losing his balance from low blood sugar.

The doctor needs to monitor such prescriptions very closely. In fact, he or she should prescribe only if absolutely necessary, and withdraw and drugs that are not improving the patient's conditions. Repeat prescribing month after month, without seeing the patient, is becoming less and less frequent.

Ideally, the elderly patient should be asked to bring all his tablets with him to his doctor's appointment and tell the doctor how and when he takes them. Drug directions should be kept as simple as possible and reviewed regularly.

Be suspicious that any new symptom may be due to a drug reaction. As drugs become more powerful, they may become more dangerous for the elderly.—by DR. ROBERT KETTRICK increase in reaction time. Some drugs reduce the blood pressure and tend to make him lightheaded.

Adverse drug reactions are not uncommon, particularly with preparations to reduce blood pressure, tablet or capsules for depression or anxiety, and sleeping pills and drugs given to control the heart rate, particularly digitalis.

On top of all these risks, the patient may misunderstand the dosage he is to take.

Some prescribed drugs even combine in the body to produce unwanted and

Knowing early signs of Alzheimer's can help

Forgetting where you put your keys is normal. Forgetting that your keys start your car is not normal, and could be a sign of Alzheimer's disease. According to the Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn., many people wrongly assume that memory loss, decline in mental abilities, disorientation and even bizarre behavior are a normal part of the aging process. They actually may be symptoms of Alzheimer's disease, requiring a physician's assessment and care.

The Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn. is part of a nationwide educational campaign to increase public awareness, called "Is It Alzheimer's? Ten Warning Signs." November is National Alzheimer's Disease Month and the campaign will also include public service announcements, educational materials and community outreach.

"There is a strong need for people to recognize the signs of Alzheimer's disease," said Nancy Erickson, executive director of the Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn. "The main goal of this campaign is to help people understand that Alzheimer's disease is not normal aging. There are an estimated 100,000 Alzheimer's patients throughout Cook, DuPage, Kane and Lake Counties. It is our hope that this education campaign will reach a large percentage of the Chicagoland community."

One in three American adults says they know someone with Alzheimer's disease, and one in 10 says a relative has it, according to a Gallup poll conducted this year. Alzheimer's is the fourth leading cause of death among adults in the U.S., claiming 100,000 lives annually. Victims of Alzheimer's disease can live between three to 20 years after the initial diagnosis. Nearly 10 percent of persons over 65 are afflicted. Of these people 85 years old, almost 50 percent will get Alzheimer's.

Alzheimer's disease is the leading cause of dementia, afflicting an estimated four million Americans. It is a degenerative disease of the brain which causes impaired thinking, memory and behavior. Until recently, an accurate diagnosis of Alzheimer's disease was possible only at autopsy. Now, improvements in testing have made clinical diagnosis up to 80 to 90 percent accurate. Alzheimer's disease is diagnosed by eliminating all other possible causes of dementia symptoms, such as depression, nutritional deficiencies, drug interaction or intoxication and thyroid imbalances, as well as other dementias associated with, for example, stroke or Huntington's disease. The symptoms of some of these conditions can be reversed with proper care. However, Alzheimer's disease cannot be cured.

The Alzheimer's Assn. has developed a checklist to help identify early warning signs of dementia. People who know someone who exhibits these symptoms, or experiences the symptoms themselves, should see a physician.

Ten warning signs

1. Recent memory loss that affects job performance. It's normal to occasionally forget assignments, colleagues' names or a business associate's telephone number, but generally remember them later. Those with a dementia, such as Alzheimer's disease, may forget things more often, and not remember them later. They may repeatedly ask the same question, not remembering the answer, or that they already asked the question.

2. Difficulty performing familiar tasks. Busy people can be distracted from time to time and leave carrots on the stove, only remembering to serve them at the end of the meal. People with Alzheimer's disease could prepare a meal, forget to serve it, and even forget they made it.

3. Problems with language. Everyone has trouble finding the right word sometimes, but can finish the sentence with another appropriate word. A person with Alzheimer's disease may forget simple words, or substitute inappropriate words, making their sentence incomprehensible.

4. Disorientation of time and place. It's normal to forget the day of the week or your destination for a moment. But people with Alzheimer's disease can become lost on their own street or in a familiar shopping mall, not knowing where they are, how they got there or how to get home.

5. Poor or decreased judgment. People can become so immersed in an activity or telephone conversation they temporarily forget the child they're watching. A person with Alzheimer's disease could entirely forget the child under their care and leave the house to visit a neighbor.

6. Problems with abstract thinking. People who normally balance their checkbooks may be momentarily disconcerted when the task is more complicated than usual, but will eventually figure out the solution. Someone with Alzheimer's disease could forget completely what the numbers are and what needs to be done with them.

7. Misplacing things. Anyone can misplace their wallet or keys, but eventually find them by reconstructing where they could have left them. A person with Alzheimer's disease may put things in inappropriate places—an iron in a freezer, or a wristwatch in the sugar bowl—and not be able to retrieve them.

8. Changes in mood or behavior. Everyone has a bad day once in a while, or may become sad or moody from time to time. Someone with Alzheimer's disease can exhibit rapid mood swings for no apparent reason: e.g., from calm to tears to anger to calm in a few minutes.

9. Changes in personality. People's personalities ordinarily change somewhat at different ages, as character traits strengthen or mellow. But a person with Alzheimer's disease can change drastically, becoming extremely irritable, suspicious or fearful.

10. Loss of initiative. It's normal to tire of housework, business activities or social obligations, but most people regain their initiative. The person with Alzheimer's disease may become very passive and require cues and prompting to get them involved in activities.

"Since most patients are cared for at home, Alzheimer's disease often affects the entire family," added Erickson. "The Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn. considers each caregiver to be a 'second victim'. Therefore, we provide programs and services for both patients and caregivers."

For more information contact the Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn., 933-2413, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 933-1000 after 5 p.m.

Lutheran General offers parenting tips

Lutheran General Recovery Center at Mundelein is offering free community lectures in December on the two subjects for which adults most frequently seek advice, parenting and stress.

Dec. 2, LGRC, 24647 N. Highway 21, Mundelein, presents "Parenting in the 90s" from 7 to 9 p.m. The program is a mini survival guide for parents with children ages six to 18, and will offer practical help on such issues as how to communicate with your child most effectively and how to have a positive impact on your children's life choices. The speaker will be Peter Palanca, M.A., C.A.D.C., executive director, Lutheran General Recovery Center at DuPage. Palanca is a popular guest speaker and a nationally-recognized expert on adolescent behavior.

Dec. 16, LGRC-Mundelein presents "How to Control Stress so it Doesn't Control You" from 7 to 9 p.m. Most people have an idea of what is causing them stress, but need help learning how to deal with it. Take a two-hour break from the stresses of the holidays to participate in relaxation exercises and familiarize yourself with stress reducers like hypnosis, biofeedback, imagery and medication. Guest speaker will be Arlene Leshtz, B.A. biofeedback therapist.

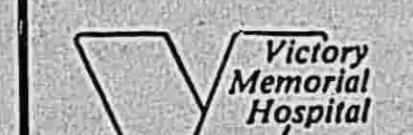

Psychological Services, Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

Both lectures are free to the public. Ample parking available, but seating is limited. To reserve a seat or to obtain other programs offered by Lutheran General Recovery Center at Mundelein, call Lutheran General HealthSystem's Doctor Referral and Information Center, AC 696-6010.

AIDS fair to offer information

Gurnee Mills Shopping Center will be the place to learn about the research and treatment of AIDS in Lake County from 1 to 5 p.m. Dec. 1.

Sponsored by the HIV/AIDS Coalition of Lake County, the AIDS Awareness program will feature booths offering information on services, resources and support.

The agencies to be represented include the Lake County Health Department, Catholic Charities, the Red Cross and various hospices in the area who work with HIV infected patients.

"If people have concerns, they can find people to answer their questions," said Kathy McGowan of Catholic Charities. "We want to increase the public's consciousness and provide information."

Facts will be offered not only on the disease itself, but available services, patient resources and support groups. Some training materials are available in Spanish.

The Dec. 1 event is tied in with World AIDS Day. A worship service will be conducted at 7 p.m. in the First Congregational Church, 315 N. Utica, Waukegan.

NICASA board to honor Kemper

The Women's Board of NICASA (Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse) will hold its first Holiday Dinner Dance from 6:30 to 11 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 4, at the Chicago Botanic Garden, 1000 Lake Cook Rd., Glencoe.

Women's Board president Nancy Magee of IMCERA Group, Inc. said James S. Kemper, Jr., former chairman of the Kemper National Insurance Companies, will be the honoree and first recipient of the board's recognition award.

"Jim Kemper is a forerunner in eradicating the stigma of alcoholism and substance abuse. His leadership and courage helped society see that alcoholism is a treatable disease that needs to be identified early and treated properly," Magee said.

"He has been a loyal friend of NICASA in its mission to help people deal with and effectively treat the problems of alcoholism and substance abuse."

Magee said the Women's Board of NICASA was created to assist the agency in its mission to promote healthier lifestyles and prevent and treat alcohol and other drug dependency. The Women's Board participates in fundraising activities to enhance and support the growth of NICASA's programs. The board also volunteers in many capacities to assist existing programs and activities of NICASA, she said.

The Holiday Dinner Dance will be held in the holiday rooms of the Botanic Garden, with music and entertainment provided by Alan Kaye's Orchestra. Magee said the highlight of the evening will be a special audio-visual tribute to James S. Kemper, Jr.

Persons interested in attending should contact Julie Andersen, NICASA, 546-6450.

Formed in 1966, NICASA is a not-for-profit agency with headquarters in Round Lake. Additional clinical facilities are in Waukegan and Prairie View. NICASA also operates Bridge House, a residential facility, in Waukegan.

Griefnotes

Grief is best managed by talking about it and expressing our feelings to those we trust. Drugs, including alcohol, limit our ability to face grief openly and serve only the non-productive goal of hiding or masking our feelings. There is no question that feelings of grief are painful and will often be difficult to face. Instead of drugs find good friends who will listen and support you as you express your feelings of grief. If you have been taking drugs and you cannot go on without them, see your physician, or a mental health worker who knows about grief. If you find yourself drinking more than usual or suffering severe stress seek help from professionals.

Can drugs be used to manage grief?

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I have been unemployed for a short time and have been avidly applying for positions in and out of my field. The problem is I have recently encountered an employer who mentioned that I have written "terminated" as for my reasons for leaving my last three employers. I was shocked when he asked my why I had been fired and that did not look real good on my application. I explained to him that I terminated my employment. The word "terminated" refers to an end. Why would he assume that meant I was fired? R.G. - Libertyville

A: Dear R.G. So as the employer will understand that there has been no wrong doing on your part, when asked about your reasons for leaving your employer be more specific so as to clarify that you terminated your own employment and for what ever reasons. If you left any of those employers for reasons other than the obvious...upward mobility and such, you should allow yourself the opportunity to explain instead of being read the wrong way. Most importantly remember that there are certain reasons for termination that are a turn off to employers. Examples of these are: terminated for excessive absenteeism, left due to sexual harassment, involved in a law suit with an employer and other reasons for leaving which may be a threat to a future employer. Reasons for leaving...LESS IS MORE! And while you are trying to explain your reasons for leaving your former employer...for whatever reason it may be...Never, never, never talk bad about them. The person interviewing you may see you as a problem waiting to happen. Hope this helps.

Q: Dear...Search: I have noticed that many positions advertised in the newspaper have been asking for salary history to be sent along with my resume. Since there are many different positions I am willing to pursue at this point I would hate to limit myself on my resume by including a salary that may scare off other potential employers while reviewing my background. Is it proper for me to include a separate sheet to my resume which would outline my salary history, to be sent only to those requesting such information? J.C.K. - Lake Villa.

A: Dear J.C.K. Yes it would be proper and wise. You are absolutely correct in assuming that you may knock yourself out of the picture to someone who may have viewed your salary at $35,000 thinking you are untouchable. When in essence you may be willing to accept a salary of $30,000 which could be workable. Only include salary history if requested.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 5101 Washington St., Gurnee, IL 60031.

TAMARISK

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 116'-5" X 61'-0"
LIVING: 2987 square feet
GARAGE: 690 square feet

TAMARISK (333-190)
By Landmark Designs, Inc.

Slender brick columns support a dramatic gabled porch that adds to the visual appeal of the TAMARISK, a large contemporary-country home designed for construction on a good sized parcel of land. Almost all the rooms in this plan are large. Vaulted ceilings in the entry, guest suite, living room, office and family kitchen add to the sense of spaciousness.

One of the home's most interesting features is the family theater, designed to maximize the pleasures of surround sound. Built-in shelves and cabinets provide housing for a big-screen television, electronic stereo equipment, albums, disks, videotapes, and the like. These shelves are accessible from the rear, through the utility room.

A sunny skylit family kitchen is at the heart of the home. Its brick or tile hearth spans the entire left wall. The wood box has an exterior door and supplies the fireplace in the office as well. Conveniences in the kitchen include a freezer, pantry, garden window, appliance center, and an island with vegetable sink.

The sumptuous master suite is far more than a bedroom. A bayed sitting area expands the rear wall while skylights brighten the portion of the room furthest from the windows. Another skylight, along with a small window, illuminates the deep walk-in closet.

Luxuries in the master bedroom include a spa, an oversized shower, and a separately enclosed second vanity. Sliding glass doors open onto a wide deck, and pocket doors offer direct access to the skylit office. A security system is next to the door that leads to the rest of the house. Storage and linen closets make efficient use of space in the hallway.

The small guest suite could double as a second office if both husband and wife do some of their work at home.

Secondary bedrooms are at the opposite end of the house. An odd-angled bathroom with twin lavs serves the bedrooms and garage. Utilities are across the hall in another odd-shaped room. The exterior door comes in handy when shoes are muddy from working in the garden.

For a study kit of the TAMARISK (333-190), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number) For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

'Best' 'Cats to recall many highs in 12-win year

They gathered in a large huddle at the 35-yard line at Suchs Stadium in Wilmette.

The wearers of the orange and black had just had their previously perfect football season ended 27-14 at the hands of Loyola Academy.

Don't look for these two teams to be scheduling any non-conference games with each other. Such was the nature of the Loyola Class 6A state semi-final win.

"This is the first game that I have ever been involved in a number of years with that kind of penalties. The game is physical. We teach this is a very physical game, but we also teach a high level of self-control," Libertyville Coach Dale Christensen said.

Downers Grove South in the Class 6A title game in Normal, Nov. 27—had two players ejected and 150 yards in penalties.

crown in Class 2A last year.

The way Loyola won did not stop the Wildcats from reflecting on how they changed the tone of this game Saturday.

"Our defense came around and executed like we anticipated," Coach Christensen said. "We won the second half 14-0."

The Wildcats were poised for a last-ditch rally when a 12-men-on-the-field penalty after a Loyola punt ended their hopes. Loyola scored on the very next play for a 13-point margin.

Andrew Robertson, who tallied more than 1,000 yards in a storybook season, scored on a two-yard run, bringing the visitors the first score.

"They deliberately twisted Robertson's knee," Coach Christensen said.

"We're still proud of the team. We have nothing to be ashamed of," Robertson said.

Robertson, wearing No. 32 instead of usual No. 20, scored after quarterback Chris Fulbright connected with Robert Paulson on a 42-yard gain. Robertson scored from two-yards out, but was then injured on a two-point conversion run.

Despite not having their star, the Wildcats came back, much to the delight of the large LHS contingent.

After a six-yard loss due to a sack, Fulbright to Paulson worked again, for 28 yards. He later tossed one to Seth Aldridge from three yards out with 6:02 left.

While the penalty sealed the fate, a kickoff return to the Libertyville 46 by Keith Hermann was key.

"Keith has been doing that for us all year. He has done a great job. He does a great job in the secondary (he had an interception), he is a multi-dimensional player," Loyola (11-2) coach John Hoerster said.

"We could not get momentum in the second half. They had a couple of trick plays. They were an aggressive team like we are. They play an aggressive defense, they play as solid an offense as we do. It was 21-0 at halftime, but they never gave up," Hoerster said.

"Unfortunately, yes," he commented when asked about the bad blood between the two powerhouses.

"We had quite a few penalties. No way to win a close game with a lot of penalties. We have to correct that."

There was nothing to correct about Loyola's first-half offense. They amassed 246 of their 306 yards. Gregory Taylor scored on a 30-yard run after LHS defense had held on a fourth-down try.

Taylor executed a reverse to Hermann for a second score early in the second quarter.

The third score came on a nine-yard run by quarterback Matthew Proesel.

"We wanted to come out and throw the ball because we knew they were loading up for the run," Christensen said.

Christensen, who reached 124 wins with the 12-victory season, looks to Robertson, Reed Christensen, running back linebacker Todd Gierthy and lineman Mike Duffy and Brad Koester as college prospects.

And what about next year, with QB Fulbright back?

"We have a few sophomores we brought up that will be good ballplayers, we hope," the coach said.

These include Jermaine Foster (who recovered a fumble in a key moment in the playoff vs. Stevenson); junior Danny Nikolich, who subbed when Christensen was injured in the playoffs; Andy Brandon and running backs Steve Witcraft and Kevin Dickson.

But for the seniors, it may take awhile before the feeling of frustration fades away. But it will.

"This was the best group we have ever had," Coach Christensen said.

Height a benefit for CLC women's hoops contingent

The College of Lake County's Women's basketball team had chances to win its season opener through 40 minutes of play Saturday against South Suburban.

"We led as late as 1:30 to go, but we did not execute very well," Coach Don Zeman said. "We did not use the clock to

We did not use the clock to our advantage but that is a correctable problem.'

CLC women's coach

our advantage. But that is a correctable problem."

The Lancers lost 63-60 at home in Grayslake. Julieanne Frankowski, a Warren grad, led the way with 17 points, Heather Ford had 16 and Vicky Nelson 10.

The Lancers, after battling Joliet Tuesday, are at the Harper Thanksgiving tourney this weekend.

South Suburban scored 12 of its 28 first-half points off fastbreaks, but CLC made adjustments after the tie at halftime.

CLC has tall players up front, such as 5-11 Frankowski, who averaged 10 points a game last year; 6-1 Christy Zink, a sophomore from Round Lake who averaged 7.5 points, 6-0 frosh Patti Owens from Grant and fellow ex-Grant player Nelson, 6-1.

The CLC mentor said he was happy with his team's rebounding efforts. Frankowski had 12, Zink eight and Ford seven.

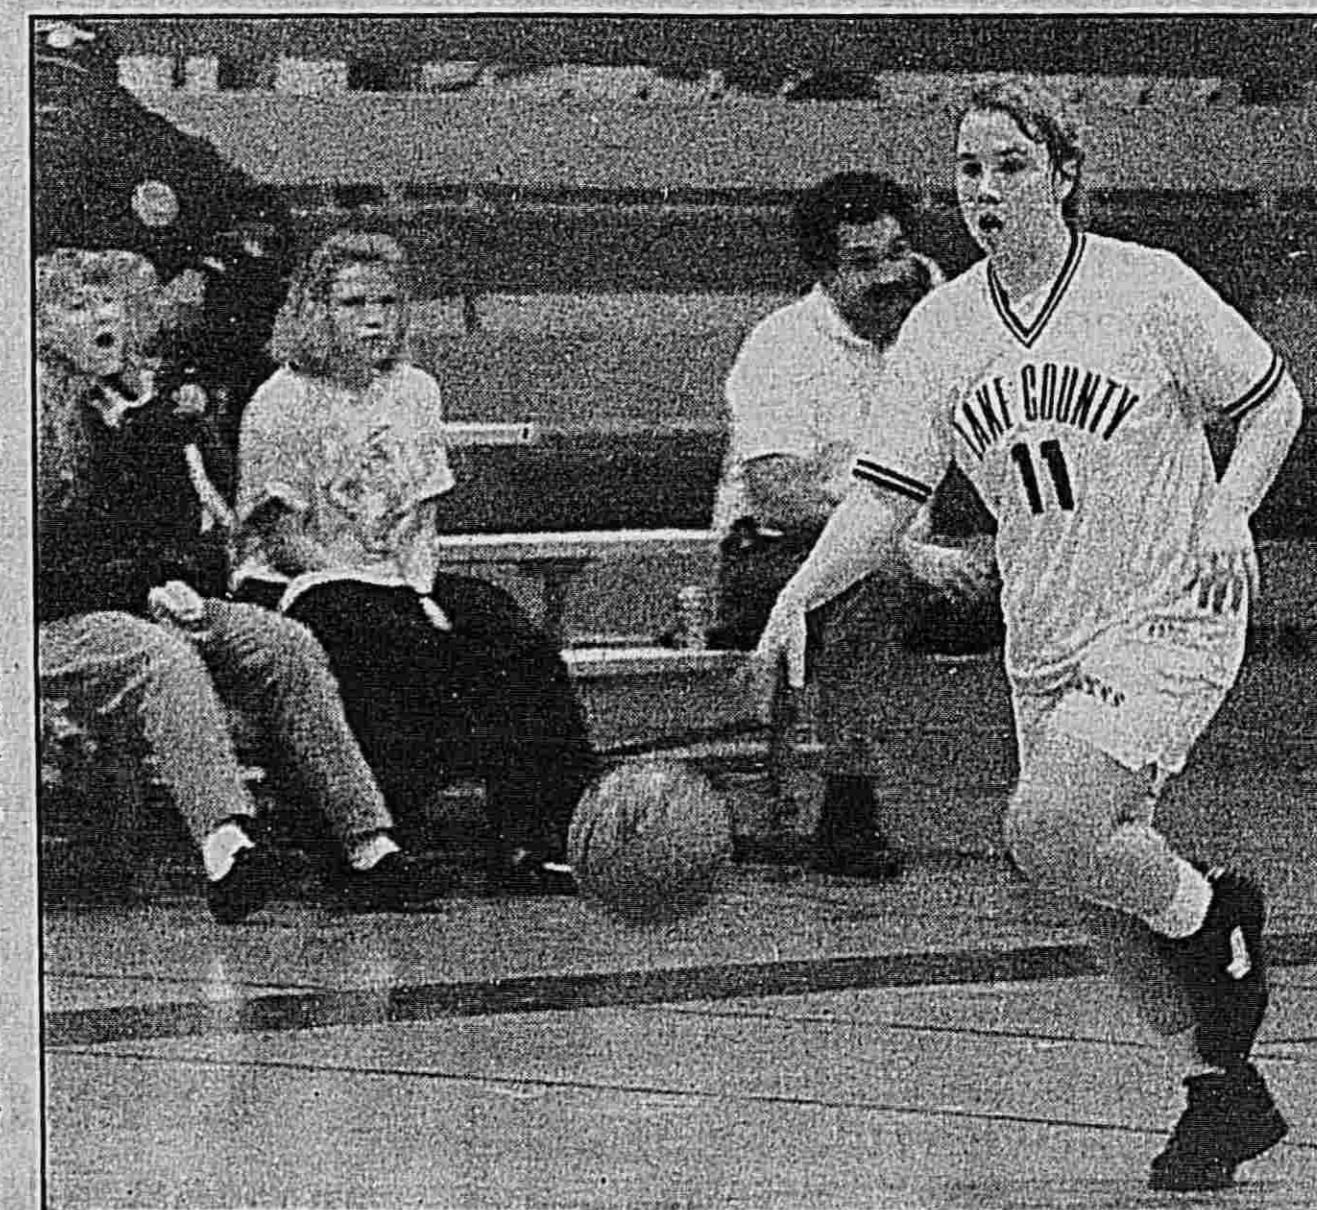

"I have not seen much in the way of three-point shooters. We may be slower than we have been in the last couple of years," Zeman said.

Ford, from Wauconda, is the only returning guard. She starts opposite former teammate Amy Scharlu.

CLC only has eight players, meaning a lot of four-on-four scrimmages. "We have some alumni come in and help out, but not every day and we have to play half-court. That was noticeable on offense," Zeman said.

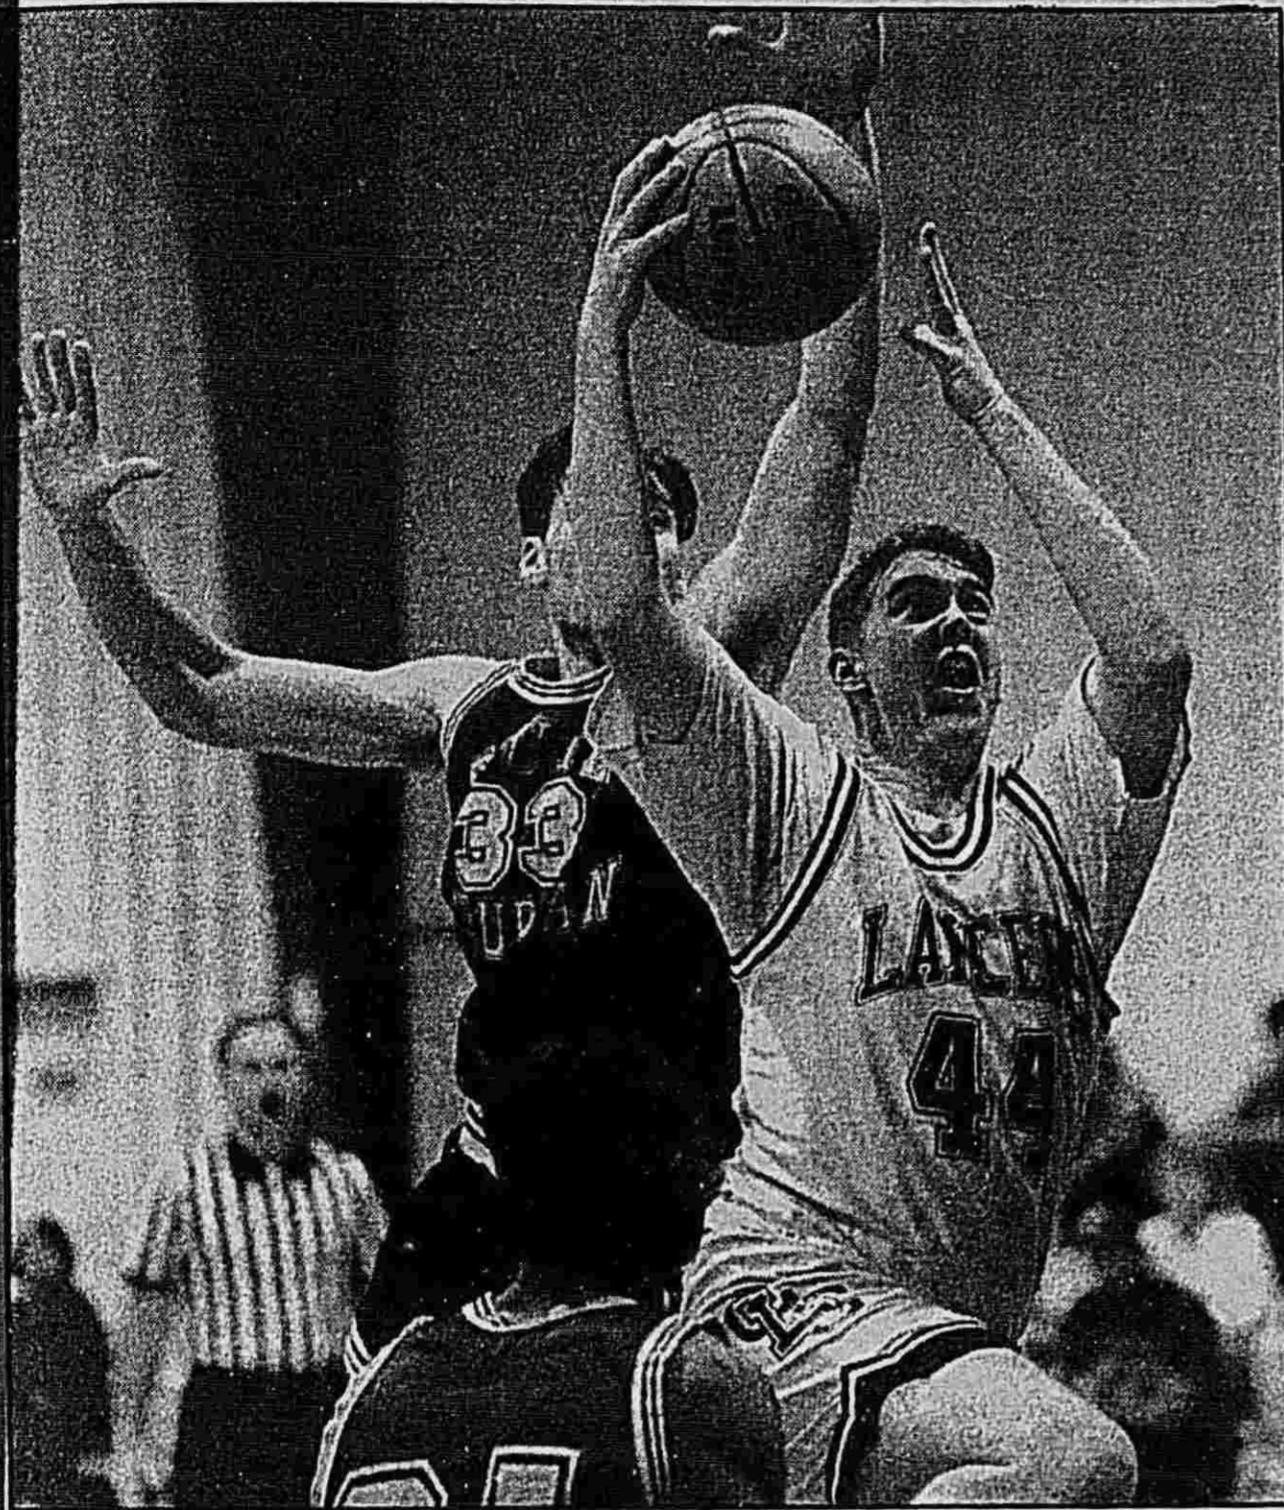

Missy Coumos, a sophomore guard from Round Lake, is one reserve and Melina Vick, a 1985 Warren grad, the other.

CLC's schedule for December: Dec. 2, Moraine Valley, H, 5 p.m.; Dec. 4, Sauk Valley, H, 1 p.m.; Dec. 7, College of DuPage, A, 5 p.m.; Dec. 9, Harper, H, 5 p.m. Dec. 14, Triton, A, 5 p.m. and Dec. 29-30 at College of DuPage tourney. Skyway play begins Jan. 6 at Wabonsee.

Bowling veteran tops four to claim Memorial crown

An Oregon resident was the center of attention at Deer Park Lanes in Lake Zurich as he proudly clutching his brand-new trophy.

Dave Husted admitted he at times "bowled ugly" at the Brunswick Memorial World Open, but was satisfied with the $45,000 earnings and new boat.

"I just outscored him," Husted said of his second-to-last match, with Mark

Williams of Beaumont, Texas.

Husted, of Milwaukie, Oregon, won the title in a 192-183 win over Rich Wolfe of Arlington, Va.

"They were very difficult lane conditions," Husted said after beating four opponents in the nationally televised stepladder finals.

Husted, a bowling veteran of 15 years, opened with a 225-210 win over Wolfe; downed Jeff Germann 216-

177; Williams 209-196 before facing Voss.

Husted was fourth after 56 games.

"It's a major and that is nice to win," Husted said.

The $250,000 open featured a donation of $15 per pin pledge for Lamb's Farm.

Some 240 bowlers started in the six-day event. Bill Spigner of Vernon Hills cashed once again.

College of Lake County's men's basketball team came close but could not break into the win column Saturday against South Suburban.

The Lancers' Mike Rudd thrilled the home crowd when he sank his only basket of the game for a tie at 56-56. The freshman from Libertyville hit the basket with 10 seconds left.

But that was not enough as South Suburban eked out the win, CLC's fifth straight loss.

"We played very strong defense and so did they. That was, by far, our best game of the year," CLC Coach Bruce Smith said.

The Lancers were led by 17 points from Ramsey Williams, a North Chicago graduate. Justin Hanlin, a Warren grad, had 16. Both had two three-pointers.

It was the second straight strong game from Williams. The six-foot, three inch forward-center was the only Lancer to reach double digits with 12 in a 96-40 loss to College of DuPage.

South Suburban, which gained its fifth straight win, led 30-24 at halftime.

"I was very proud of our team the way we came back after the loss to DuPage," Smith said.

Antioch grapplers prepare to contend with new coach

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

Two North Suburban Conference champs will lead the Antioch Sequoits wrestling team into a new era with a new head coach.

Ted Sieckowski takes over for the retired Ted DeRousse. Sieckowski is looking to seniors Chris Petykowski at 119 pounds and John Osmond at 171 as returning NSC champs.

"It is almost a repeat from last year's team," Sieckowski said of the starting lineup.

That's not a bad place to start, considering the Sequoits were runner-up to league champ Libertyville last year.

The seniors are more than leaders at Antioch. They have a coaching role as well. "We only have two coaches due to referendum problems, so we are taking a cooperative learning approach. The seniors are helping out with the lower classes teaching wrestling," Sieckowski said.

Antioch opened with state-ranked Conant Tuesday. Next on the slate is Stagg Dec. 4.

Sieckowski was an assistant wrestling coach at Antioch Upper Grade School before landing the Sequoits job one month before the season started.

Antioch will start the line-up with a brother tandem, Lucas Dyer, a sophomore, is at 103 pounds, while Justin Dyer, a junior, is at 112. Their father, Dennis, is one of the volunteer helpers while Mom Anita organizes the Matt Maids group.

Chris Haag, a senior, is coming off a second-place conference finish in 1992 as is heavyweight Mike Shea.

Brian Mache, a senior, earned a letter at 160 pounds.

In the middle weights, Steve Zalopi, a senior, is at 125; Jason Krause, a junior, at 130; Joe Earl, a junior at 140; Jason Breen, a sophomore, has made the lineup at 152.

Sieckowski remembers Breen as a state champ in grade school.

"The sophomores and juniors will provide backbone for this team," Sieckowski said.

Other sophs who could contribute are 140 pounder Brian Weeks and 135 pounder Bob Patterson.

Sieckowski is a 1978 graduate of Grant High, where he wrestled for Coach Don Rowden. He also wrestled for Bud Wick at the College of Lake County and, of course, long-standing ACHS wrestling mentor DeRousse has had a big impact on him.

"It is a combination of all of those coaches. What I try to do is wrestle from an offensive standpoint with a very aggressive style," Sieckowski said.

Girls' defense stops foe's sharp-shooter, ACHS wins

Antioch High's girls basketball team notched the first win of Coach Dave Woods' ACHS career by improving on defense against Grayslake.

"I think the biggest thing was defensive intensity," Woods said of a 52-40 win over Grayslake.

Woods pointed to how the Sequoits kept Jenny Dunbar, one of the county's top three-point shooters, in check.

The Sequoits led 21-13 af-

"We held Dunbar to three baskets. Liz Earl did an excellent job on her, never letting her get set up," Woods said.

Amy Leiber led the Antioch squad with 16 points. Mandy Jacobsen and Earl had 10 and Malene Gooch had nine.

Jessica Cocoran led Grayslake (0-1) in a losing effort with 11 points. Dunbar had nine.

The Sequoits led 21-13 after one, 33-23 at halftime and 44-32 after three quarters. Antioch's largest margin was 12 points.

Antioch (1-1), despite the win, still has areas to improve.

"We need to come a long way offensively and with free throws," Woods said.

Antioch managed just 10 for 24 free throws.

"Any win is a big win. Now we can go into the tournament on an upbeat note," Woods said.

Blitz downed BASA, 4-0

At Poplar Creek Sports Centre the U-15 Blitz met team BASA from Barrington and won 4-0 in a game that showed off excellent team play by the Blitz. The game was close through the first half with the Blitz clinging to a 1-0 lead. But the Blitz came out strong in the second half and fired in three more goals to put the game out of reach.

Stacie Morley had a big day with three goals. Katie Hoskins scored the other goal. Both Carrie Gofron and Erin Sparkman had two assists each. A strong game was also had by Tami Wright, Nicki Kral, Jill Denoma and Jessica Haynes. Becca Bleyer was perfect in the goal stopping several quality chances and preserving the shut-out.

The U-13 power took on the Libertyville Thunder at Soccer Enterprises and lost a controversial contest 3-1. With the Power behind 2-1, they pushed a shot past the Thunder keeper, unfortunately the referee did not see it cross the line and would not allow what would have been the tying goal.

Libertyville went on to score their third goal with one second lift in the game. The lone goal for the Power was scored by Sarah Richardson, with the assist given to Kristina Giangiorgi. Other stand out players of the day were Nicci Estep and Jamie Wismer who played excellent defense. Jenny Barbera also was very strong in the goal.

Also at Soccer Enterprises the U-19 Enigma beat Team Evanston 2-1. Enigma goals were scored by Kelly Landgren and Sarah Ayre.

Royal Eagles off to great start

The Lindenhurst Royal Eagles soccer team opened the indoor-soccer season and dominated Glenview United by a score of 9-0. The Eagles' defense was almost impenetrable as Glenview could only put three shots on goal the entire game. Defensive standouts included Ramesh Kumar, Erik Carlberg, David Calvert, Matt Boller and Kevin Mathewson. The relentless Lindenhurst attack was led by the scoring of Kevin Mark (2 goals), Adam Placko, (2), Ryan Jordan (2), Tom Woodruff (2) and Adam Jordan. This was the first indoor game ever played by the Royal Eagles.

U-13 Stars down Green, 3-2

The U-13 Stars traveled to Friendship Park to play Mt. Prospect Green and White and came from behind to win 3-2. Trailing 2-1 at halftime, the Stars pulled together and scored two goals within minutes of one another and held on to the lead with tough defense (Katie Gofron, Elly Elfering, Cheri Case, Megs Kotlarz, Sarah Rimkus, Amy Smit and keeper Megen Rinkenberger). Goals were scored by Amie Carlberg (2) and Emmy Kane (1). Natalie Richter also had several quality shots. Two assists were credited to Samie Korbal. The Stars are 8-1-0 this season.

NISRA/Kiwanis host annual run, dribble, shoot contest

The Northern Illinois Special Recreation Association held its sixth Annual Kiwanis Run, Dribble, Shoot competition at Lundahl Junior High School in Crystal Lake. This event is a warm up to the Fall Special Olympic Basketball season. Thirty-one participants joined in some friendly competition in the running, dribbling, shoot weave, shooting and spot shooting events.

Participating were: Mark Allen, Norman Barger, Nancy Buchholtz, David Corrales, Ron Dietz, Dwayne Durham, Charlie Fredericks, Jennifer Krein,

Kiwanis provided the participants with awards and lunch. Lynn Fiala and Don minutes left, we were down by six points, but they went up by 12 and then I put some sophomores in. We are still learning to take care of the ball," Woods said.

Riggenbach of Kiwanis and Jim Fedorski from NISRA coordinated the event. Volunteers for Kiwanis included Bill Grogg, Lynn Fiala, Walt Henick and Dog Riggenbach. NISRA volunteers included Esmerelda Bernal, Michelle Blackburn, Eric Encot, Andrea Lauder, Shana McGorian, Eric Perez and Sharon Spector. This free event would not have been possible without the help of these dedicated people.

Gooch scored 15 points in a 56-39 loss at the Dundee-Crown tourney. The defeat dropped the Sequoits to 1-2 overall. A senior, she is a five-foot, nine inch forward-center.

"She had her best game of the year. She had five field goals and five-for-six from the line. She fouled out with 10 minutes to go and that was a big factor," Antioch Coach Dave Woods said.

Amy Leiber had nine points.

ACHS grad Graham nets all-league kudos at UW-W

Former Antioch High football star Glenn Graham was named first-team all-conference for his efforts at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Warhawks defensive backfield.

The Warhawks led the Wisconsin State University Conference pass defense en route to a 6-4 season. The Warhawks finished the year with a 26-0 win over University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh.

"This was the year he came into his own," Warhawks head coach Bob Berezowitz said of Graham.

Graham had three interceptions. He transferred to UW-Whitewater last year after playing at Valparaiso.

He injured two fingers last year but bounced back.

UW-W defensive coordinator Bruce Bukowski called Graham "an intelligent player who makes a total effort in practice as well as games. He has exceptional reaction to the ball, knows just when to move in for the interception and covers wide receivers all over the field."

Veteran Antioch Coach Del Pechauer recalls Graham as "very coachable and well-liked by everyone. He was the second leading ground gainer in school history from a running back position." Graham returned to Antioch High this year to speak at Homecoming. "I am very thankful to be at UW-W. The coaches are very supportive as are my high school coaches and family," Graham said.

Graham received all-North Suburban Conference and all-state recognition at Antioch as the team's Most Valuable Player.

Coach Berezowitz called Graham a "model student-athlete who motivates others to high performance standards. He came to us as a well-coached young man with exceptional skills."

Graham is also a track standout at UW-Whitewater.

As for the season as a whole, Berezowitz said he was disappointed the Warhawks did not win the league title. "We would have been happy with 8-2," he said.

Grayslake High increases students earning diplomas

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

More Grayslake Community High School students are earning diplomas as opposed to just a few years ago.

"When I got here, the graduation rate was 83 percent, which is low for a suburban high school district. It is now 94.9 percent. That takes everybody working together," Ray Novak, superintendent, said.

Novak said the Illinois Goal Assessment Program (IGAP) scores are consistent with "the level of funding and the socio-economic status," he said.

One area which the high school staff is working to improve is writing. The GCHS score on the state report card was 25.4, just into the acceptable range.

"We are working hard in the writing curriculum. We have a unified four-year writing program and holistic grading," Novak said.

He said he would like to have the GCHS test scores in the 300 range, well above the state's band, but the resources are not there. "Our kids are discriminated against. We have good, solid, middle-class students who work hard," Novak said.

Grayslake High's ACT score was 22.7, below the state average of 22.9 for students in a core high school program.

The score for all students was 21.4 just above the state average of 21.

Novak said that indicates more time needs to be spent on test preparation.

The average teacher's salary was $45,650 in 1992-93, above the state average of $38,809. The average administrator salary was $72,280, above the state average by $10,000. Novak said the average teacher's salary could decline or stay the same the next two years as more teachers retire. He said the average administrator's salary is within range.

School districts collaborate

As part of a collaborative curriculum leadership initiative in Gavin District 37, Big Hollow District 38, Fox Lake District 114, and Grant Community High School District 124, the first in a series of parent and community education programs will be offered at Grant Community High School on Dec. 1 at 7 p.m.

The topic of this seminar will be "Ending the Homework Hassle without Tears" presented by Marc Denny, a counselor at Palatine High School, and an instructor for the Adler School of Professional Psychology and Saint Xavier College. Denny has thirty years of experience in public education and presents practical strategies to get families working together.

This seminar is a must for all who want children to be successful in school, develop good work habits, gain self confidence and learn the skills necessary to become responsible, productive adults.

expenditure in 1991-92 was $7,719.

Education fund was the biggest part of the $6.7 million budget in 1991-92, $4,697,555, 69.6 percent. The next highest was bond and interest, 9.4 percent.

A new feature in school report cards this year is school improvement plans.

"District 127 is committed to bringing the school curriculum into real, meaningful compliance with state school improvement mandates. While it is anticipated that these efforts will be a time-consuming lengthy process, the results will include:

Alignment of course learning outcomes with state goals;

Collaborative development of course expectations by all teachers teaching the same course;

Selection of multiple ways of assessing student knowledge and performance;

Provision of gathering trend data;

Staff analysis of data. Yearly course evaluation which, based on this data will result in teachers agreeing on what worked well and what should be changed for the next school term," the report concludes.

Bond rate set at 4.25

The semiannual market-based rate for Series EE United States Savings Bonds was set by the Department of the Treasury at 4.25 percent.

The new rate, in effect during the semiannual interest periods that begin between November 1993 and April 1994, is down from the 4.78 percent in effect from May 1993 through October 1993 and reflects declines in Treasury marketable securities with five years remaining to maturity. The semiannual rate is set each May 1 and November 1.

The market-based rate is 85 percent of the average market yield during the preceding six months on Treasury marketable securities with five years remaining to maturity.

When Series EE Savings Bonds are held for five years or more, yields at redemption are the average of semiannual interest rates declared during the time held, or the guaranteed minimum rate, whichever is higher.

rate, whichever is higher.

Series EE Savings Bonds issued on or after March 1, 1993, and redeemed less than five years from issue will receive the guaranteed minimum rate of 4 percent.

Interest earned on U.S. Savings Bonds is exempt from state and local income taxes. Federal income tax on the earnings may be deferred until the bonds are redeemed or reach final maturity 30 years from their issue date.

Tasty Thanksgiving, Christmas meals at the Lake County jail

Thanksgiving dinner at the Lake County jail this year will begin with a shrimp cocktail on lettuce appetizer for its 465 inmates.

Cost of the entire meal will be 96.4 cents per prisoner and probably the same cost for Christmas with a slightly different menu, said James W. Ward, food supervisor in the facility for the past twelve years.

Sheriff Clinton Grinnell said the reason for the low cost of these two meals and the overall food operation of the jail compared with other facilities in the United States is that "most others talk about running a jail while we talk about managing a jail. Our entire operation uses the newest ideas in modern management."

Ward said the overall feeding program at the jail, based on nutrition, religious concerns for those who have food restrictions, medical limitations on what some people can eat and three warm meals a day comes to less than $3 per person. Meals often include such items as steak, chops and other quality items.

Both men said the food buying program represents a good deal of long range planning and intense efforts to find the best value for the money.

Grinnell said a portion of the holiday food that will be served this year came out of a federal government commodities program which means lower costs to the county.

On the menu in addition to the shrimp cocktail is roasted tom turkey with cornbread dressing, cranberry sauce, baked pork ham, baked turkey ham, mashed potatoes, giblet gravy, baked sweet potatoes with cherry syrup, buttered peas and carrots and fruit salad with cream dressing topped with nuts.

Desserts and other items will include pumpkin pie with whipped topping, coconut cream pie, assorted candy, nuts, cookies, pan rolls, butter, grape juice and fresh milk.

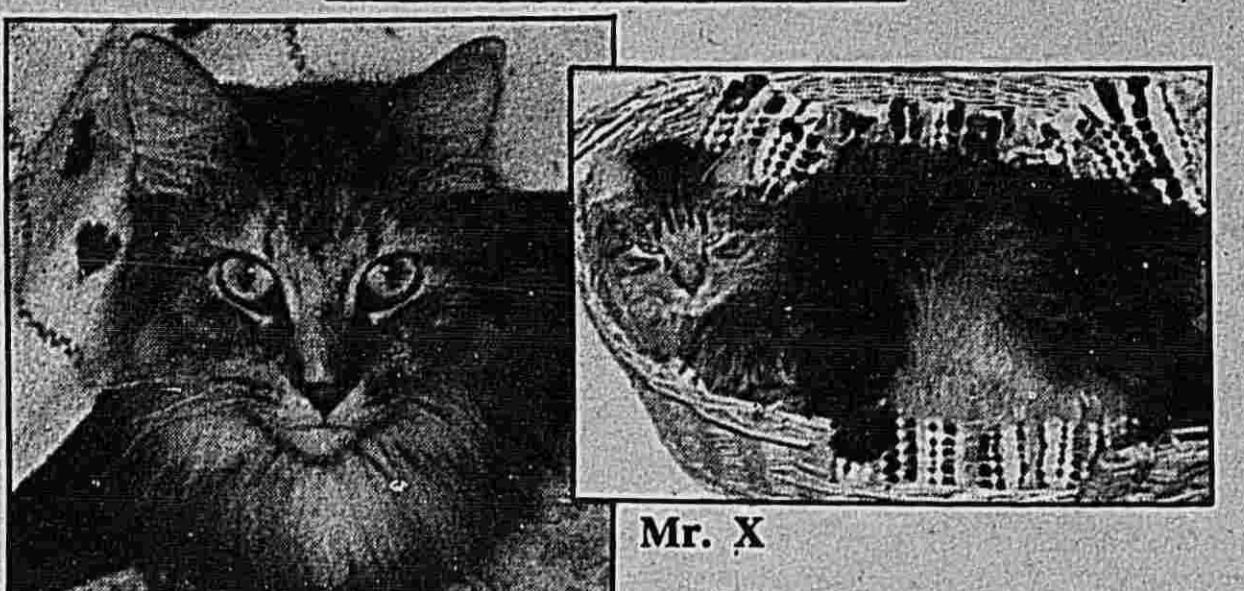

Ward said the menu for Christmas will be the same with two exceptions. Top round roast will replace the ham and cherry pie will be offered instead of the coconut cream pie. The food will be cooked in the spotlessly clean kitchen in four cost efficient dual flow electric ovens that cook and hold food throughout the oven at the same desired temperature.

Sheriff Grinnell said he will be at the prison Thanksgiving Day to spend some time with the prisoners at their meal. He promised there will be enough food for second helpings for those who want them.

IT'S THE TALK OF THE TOWN

Lakeland
Newspapers

Lonely

I am alone. Does anyone out there want to talk?

Wants 53

I can't wait until Route 53 is extended up to here. All of our neighbors are looking forward to it. We all believe it will help relieve the congestion on Route 94. I want to say to Long Grove, wake up. Be good neighbors.

Needs a break

I am a CB operator out of Round Lake. I want to talk about this Channel 21 club. They are inconsiderate. I am 14 years old, and when I try to break, they will not give me the break. They won't listen to me so I am hoping you will print this and maybe one of them will read it. I like the CB and just want a chance like anyone else. These folks are keying over me so that no one else can hear me.

Everything and nothing

In your Party Lines article of Nov. 5, you refer to Bob Neal as Mr. Everything. He is Mr. Everything all right, just nothing good.

Dana defender

I am calling on behalf of Dana Depke. You claim in your article that a lot of bridges need to be mended because of the election. I thought she was a very good loser. Many of us who worked for her may have been poor losers, but not she.

Hats off

Hats off to Jim who spoke up for all of our children in Ellis School on Channel 32. I am 100 percent behind you. What is the point of Halloween if they can't get dressed up?

Look to Springfield

With the passage of a treaty called NAFTA we stand at the portals of the 21st century. The U.S. government becomes more internationally minded no matter who gets voted into office. Will we become rich or poor? If America can be bought or sold, so can our values. We need to look to Springfield. We stand a much greater chance being sold down the river by Washington D. C. than Springfield.

Hire within

Wauconda Township pays a very fair share of taxes to the county. Many feel we over pay. If that is the case, why does the assessor's office hire people who live outside Wauconda? No one remembers seeing these jobs advertised in the paper.

Get some lights

Mr. Mayor of Round Lake Beach, if you do not want to open up Clarendon Road to through traffic, move the four-way stop sign and get street lights along Cedar Lake Road. It is dangerous there.

Lack of protection

With crime running rampant in Round Lake Heights, why aren't our police officers patrolling? Seems to me that the Chicken Man is the only one who gets protection.

A good guy

Don't make Dan Jakes look like a bad guy. He was the only board member who stood up for my rights when my two sons were killed in an accident with a school bus driver who had more than 20 complaints against her. The board did everything it could to stop me from speaking. Mr. Jakes is the kind of person Fox Lake needs more of on their school board.

Bad bus

I am a student of Stanton School and ride bus three. The other day, one bus broke down and we had to give up our bus for a replacement bus. This bus was terrible. The driver had to pump the brakes, there was an unidentified noise coming from the back, and the engine was knocking. It only takes one accident to kill someone. Do you think they will do something about it before it is too late?

Just plain mad

I just want to gripe about a supermarket in Round Lake. The people that work there are rude and discourteous. Like items are not in the same places in the store. I find things all over the place. You ask for help and they practically flip you off. The cashiers are just as bad. I swear I will never go back but then an advertisement lures me back. But, I promise you I will never go back, ever.

Tainted milk

The FDA is attempting regulation of vitamin and mineral supplements. I am perplexed that the FDA does not consider MSG or sodium cassiopeia as an okay thing. But, they will allow hormones in the milk supply?

Not right or wrong

This is the Christian hypocrite. I think you are very rude. Not all of us believe in God. That does not make us right or wrong. Think about other people sometime, okay?

Likes B & B

For some reason Lipservice was rather short this week and my gripe was not printed so I will say it again. I am working on my Ph.D. in child psychology. I spoke on behalf of Beavis and Butt-head. I am sick and tired of people claiming that Beavis and Butt-head are wrong and that it is bad for children. I truly believe there is nothing wrong with the show. If these adults have a problem with it, just change the channel. I really truly feel that this show is not detrimental.

Editorial note: Dear reader, we do apologize for missing your notes last week. We had an equipment malfunction and failed to record a number of calls. If we miss your calls, we apologize and hope you will call the messages in again.

Dead kitty

If anyone one lives on Poplar Avenue in Antioch, you better take care of your animals. If you are missing a little furry kitten that was multi-colored, my daughter found it two weeks ago. It was on the side of the road dead. We buried it for you. People shouldn't have animals if they can't take care of them.

What rumor?

Are the rumors true? Does the Lakeland Papers support BEST? Best should live up to their name or change it. How about WORSE, Worst Offenders Ruining Students Education. I am calling from Antioch.

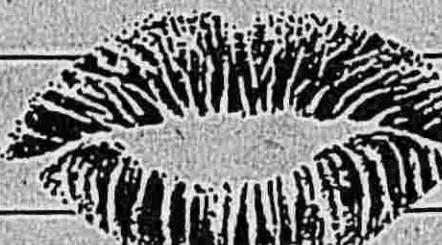

Hates their tactics

I am a 67 year-old woman and not a fan of his, but I am appalled by the tactics used against Michael Jackson. I think it is absolutely horrible.

Great show

I am calling about the Round Lake High School production I saw last night. Finally, something good about Round Lake for a change. I was amazed but not surprised at the talent displayed in their production of Little Shop of Horrors. I found this program the most entertaining amateur show I have ever seen.

I guess Round Lake High School is the best kept secret in Lake County!

Disappearing stores

I just can't believe that I heard that a major grocery store is going to pull out of North Chicago and Lakehurst. This old friend is betraying us in Lake County. I really feel bad for the people who use these stores on a regular basis.

Kennedy fan

I just got through watching "Kennedy's" and it is now five minutes to midnight. I think it is a dirty shame that this country continues to tear that family apart. I think it is about time we stop. How would you like it if it was your father, uncle, or son? Why haven't we made President Kennedy a day with no school? I think he deserves better than what we are giving him. He deserves a lot more. We can give everyone else a statue or holiday, or whatnot. All we can do for the Kennedy's is tear them apart. I think it is time we stop.

Back to China

I want to respond to the Buddhist who called into Lipservice. All the country's great scholars and leaders all agree that America was founded on Christian principles. If M. Buddha doesn't like it, he can go back to China or he can burn his incense all he wants but he is not welcome here in Lake County.

Problems are gone

I live in Grant Township. I just want to say that Watson Avenue is a great street to live on now that we have gotten rid of two bad problems.

Get a pulse

This is to the animal activist who says that fur is not a fashion statement. Obviously, you have no idea what fashion is. I think you should get something to do in your spare time instead of complaining about people who wear fur. Get a pulse then get a life.

Play group response

Hi I'm responding to the person that's looking for a play group for her and her 2-year-old son. On Friday at the Camp Crayon Antioch, there is a mom and tot program. It's held every Friday and I believe that it's free. Whoever it is can call the village hall of Antioch to receive more information. And ask for Marie Brausam. Bye bye.

The Truth About Those Secrets To Low Airfares

by JIM WARNEK, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Hidden city bookings. Back to back tickets. Throw-a-ways.

These are a few of the "tricks" touted by the authors of the so called "Secrets to Low Airfares" books. But, as with many publications claiming to have inside knowledge, the reader gets only half-truths. Worse yet, some of this advice may cause him to have his ticket confiscated, or be forced to pay hundreds of dollars more to get home.

Today, I'll explain hidden city bookings, the most popular among these so called experts. In future columns we'll talk about back to back, and throw-away tickets. Before I do so, however, I want to make it very clear that all such "tricks" will void your ticket if the airlines find out about them. Travel agents are also subject to charge-backs by airlines, if they are caught issuing these kinds of tickets.

The idea behind hidden city bookings is that you could find the airfare to, say Los Angeles, is actually less than a ticket to Phoenix. So to get that low fare to Phoenix, you buy a ticket to Los Angeles with a stop or connection in Phoenix (the hidden city) and then get off the plane in Phoenix.

In the crazy world of airfares you might actually find a ticket to Los Angeles may sometimes be less than a ticket to Phoenix. However, the airlines have gotten wise to the hidden city trick. You're going to find that low LAX fare is available only on NON-stop flights to prevent it from being used to any other destination.

Let's say, however, you do find the Los Angeles SuperFare available with a stop in Phoenix. On the flight out, you just get off in Phoenix. Great. Now it's time to come home. If you try getting on the plane in Phoenix instead of LAX, you'll find your reservation cancelled and your ticket confiscated. Now you have to buy a one way ticket from Phoenix home. Which, by the way, is going to cost you much more than a round-trip SuperSaver to Phoenix.

The reason why one-way tickets cost more than round-trips is a subject for another column as is Back to Back and throw-away tickets.
